THE END OF THE TROUBLE. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14 .- The members of the House congratulate themselves that they have disposed of the finance question at last, and can calculate with some degree of certainty upon the time at which the session will close. At the expiration of the morning hour the struggle was resumed, and steady work was had till the end was reached by the adoption of both the

Immediately upon the adoption of the House bill, Butler moved to take the business on the Speaker's table, which was agreed to, and in due course of time the Senate bill was reached.
Maynard at once moved its adoption, and demanded the previous question on his motion, that, as it was in effect a tax bill and made appropriations, it ought to go to the Committee of the Whole before being considered in the House. The Chair explained that if it was such a bill it could not properly originate in the Senate, and ought to be retained, but said that the House must decide, not the Sneaker, whether it did come improperly from the Senate. On this Garfield raised the point, and the House, by a vote of 56 to 179, decided that it was a proper measure to originate in the Senate. It was then adopted by a vote of 140 to 102, and becomes a law

THE SENATE WILL NOT ADOPT THE HOUSE BILL.
Comptroller Knox's theory that the Senate bill will operate practically as a measure of contraction, while it is not universally acceded to attracts universal attention, and is discused with great interest. Those able statesmen who originated, engineered, and passed the bill in the Senate are interested to an extent that raises the significant doubt whether they, not being wise enough to foresee the effect of their own legislation on the finances which they discussed so wordly if not learnedly, are really filling their places or merely rattling around in them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—The Secretary of the Treasury, in compliance with the resolution of the House, reports the cost of refunding the national debt into 5 per cent bonds, authorized by the act of Congress July 14, 1870, and Jan. 30, 1871, etc. The whole amount of bonds refunded is $314,416,150, as follows:

Bonds bearing 5 per cent, loan 1888, to

Bonds bearing 6 per cent interest to bonds bearing 5. $300,461,150 Bonds bearing 5 per cent, loan 1858, to bonds bearing 5 per cent, funded loan, 1881. $1,955,000 The cost thereof has been. $1,440,792 BOND SALE.

Secretary Richardson has made negotiations for the exchange of $500,000 new 5 per cent bonds for an equal amount of 6 per cent 5.20 bonds, par for par, adjusting interest to the time of exchange on each, and allowing only one-quarter of 1 per cent commission. This is one of the most favorable sales of new bonds which has yet been made.

THE SANBORN CONTRACTS. WASCHINGTON, D. C., April 14.—The Committee of Ways and Means this morning examined A. J. Odell, Treasurer of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Company, and Lucien Hawley, Supervisor of Internal Revenue for the State of New York. Odell stated the circumstances under which his Company had paid $90,685 back taxes to the Government. The delay in the payment had been caused by conflicting decisions of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. Pleasanton had decided that the income tax for five months of 1872 should be only 2½, per cent, and his successor decided that the rate should be 5 per cent, and the question had been pending for the decision in the courts. With that exception, all the taxes due by the Company were regularly entered on its books, and were from time to time communicated to the Assessor. Finally, the question having been decided, the statement was made up by Odell, and the tax was paid in conformity with it. He had never seen or heard of Sanborn or any of his agents in connection with the matter, and was completely surprised when he subsequently saw by printed official documents that half of the amount had been paid by the Government to Sanborn. His attention was called by a member of the Committee to the fact that, although he had sent a check for the amount direct to the Secretary of the Treasury on the 6th of January last, a letter from Sanborn to the Secretary of the Treasury afted two days afterwards, states the amount and number of the check, and that the money was collected by him (Sanborn). These particulars could not have been ascertained by Sanborn except through the Treasury Department.

HAMLEY'S STATEMENT Showed that, although Sanborn's contract for railroad taxes was dated on the 7th of July, 1873, he had obtained the co-operation of himself and his assistants at least two months earlier. In the examination of Hawley, he gave, as the reason why he was not astombed at the Sanborn contract, that he had already been operating in collecting decisions and the form of the leasant fo WHY CERTAIN RAILBOAD TAXES WERE NOT PAID. contract with William P. Wood. He had collected $11,000 from one Henry Howard, and $23,000 from a man named Wallace. The existence of such contracts anterior to Sanborn's seemed to astonish the Committee very much. Hawley gave the name of Alden, Stowe, and Stiner, who were in the employment and pay of the Government, and had been turned over to aid Sanborn. He did not know that Sanborn had paid them anything, but he did know that they had received their pay regularly from the Government. He was inquired of by Mr. Roberts:

Q.—Did Sanborn give you any information in any case as to taxes, or did he simply name the cases?

A.—He never gave me any written information. He would name a case, and sometimes talk about it.

tion. He would name a case, and sometimes talk about it.

Q.—What advantage was it to you or to the Government to have Sanborn connected with the Deleware & Lackawana Company matter?

A.—Merely to call attention to it, and set on foot an examination.

Q.—Was it not your duty as Supervisor of the District of New Jork to see that Assessors and Collectors did their duty?

A.—The law makes it my duty to see that all laws and instructions are obeyed and carried out.

Both witnesses were instructed to furnish the committee with copies of certain telegrams and

The Continental Railwal.

Representatives from a company which to build a continental trunk line daubic-track freight railway from Chicago and S. Louis to New York, appeared and made an arratem before the House Railways and Canasis, committee to-day. They represent that their the will be 128 miles shorter than by the Pansylvania route, and 194 miles shorter the buse from New York Central route. The disace from New York to the Missouri River a Omaha, by their projected route, is 1,224 miles; to the Mississippi, $25 miles. The maximum grade on the route is thirty feet to the mile. It is proposed to run eighty trains, a day, at ten miles an hour; and they agree to carry grain for 65 mills per ton a mile. At this rate the cost of transporting meat from Chicago to New York would be 15 cants per bushel, and from St. Louis 18 cents. It couls as present 35 and 40 cents. The first property of the Government. The interest for which the Government would thus be made liable would amount annually to something in the neighborhood of $7,000,000. They claim to have secured charters from Pennsylvania, Iowa, and New Jersey, and to have organized under the Iudians and Ohio State laws; that they have already expended $2,000,000, and have 200 miles of graded road-bed in Ohio and Indians, having purchased the old Tiffin & Fort Wayne road-bed. They own terminal facilities opposite New York City. The job has been referred to a sub-committee, and there is a reasonable hope that it will be reported upon adversely.

Missussippi river rangers.

The House Committee on Commerce to day heard President Mitchell, of the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company in advocacy of the bill authorizing the Company to build a bridge over the Mississippi River, from a point near LaCrosse, Wis., to La Crescent. The Secretary of War has refused to give his consent to any other location for the bridge, except that selected by the Government Engineer, directly in front of LaCrosse.

The House Committee on Commerce have decided to report adversely on the bill which proposes to throw open the Cluston (La.) bridge over the Mississippi, now controlled by the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company, to the use of all railroads willing to make a reasonable compensation therefor. The minority of the Committee, comprising Messrs. Clayton, Holman, and Stanard, will recommend that the bill be passed.

BOOTING THE MARINE HOSPITAL AT CHICAGO.

From the New York Tribune, April 13.

We publish this morning a remarkable letter from Washington respecting a transaction between Mr. A. R. Shepherd and Assistant Secretary Sawyer. Mr. Shepherd it seems has a contract with the Government to furnish a certain patent roofing for the public buildings on the following terms: The United States is to pay the cost of the material and labor, and Mr. Shepherd is to receive a commission of 15 per cent on these payments, beside a royalty of $5 on each square of the roofing, Accident led to an examination of the bills rendered by Mr. Shepherd for roofing the Marine Hospital at Chicago, and a series of remarkable discrepancies appeared between the bills and the vouchers. The cost of material was invariably marked up from $5 to 50 per cent above the true figures; the quantities charged for were apparently in excess of the quantities actually furnished; royalty was paid on more squares than the roof contained; and there was strong reason to believe that some of the bills were paid twice.

The gentleman who made these discoveries, a Mr. Wheeler, supposed that an error had been committed, and respectfully waited upon Secretary Riehardson with his information. The case was referred to Assistant-Secretary Sawyer, and a time was set for Mr. Wheeler to meet Sawyer with sworn copies of the bills, vouchers, and other papers necessary to an examination. At the appointed hour Mr. Wheeler presented himself with the documents, and instead of encountering Mr. Sawyer he found awaiting him a letter from the Secretary, stating that Mr. Sawyer had "examined" the charges (this, be it remembered, before the proofs had been submitted) and found them "not sustained in any degree by the facts." And there, so far as the Department is concerned, the case still rests.

'Of course, there may be an explanation of the so far as the Department is concerned, the case still rests.

Of course, there may be an explanation of the apparent discrepancies in Mr. Shepherd's accounts; but the circumstances are in the highest degree suspicious. If, in the "ordinary course of business," somebody should start on its rounds through the Treasury an order for an examination of this case, and that order should chance to to be referred to Mr. Richardson, we hope the Secretary will chance to sign it. Mr. Skepherd's roofing company has contracts for covering a great many public buildings, and we should like to know upon what principle the work is paid for.

Mr. Scott. from the Committee on Finance, reported back the bill to provide for the payment of the bonds of the Louisville & Portland Canal Company, with the recommendation that the House substitute for the bill to adopted, with certain amendments. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Free Ling Huysen, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported back the Civil Rights bill introduced on the first day of the assion by the late Senstor Summer, with the amendment, and the recommendation of a majority of the Committee that it be passed as amended. Placed on the calendar.

The Finance Committee reported the Louisville & Portland Canal bill with the following amendments: Strike out the so-called Wheeler provise, postponing the taking possession and assuming the liabilities of the canal until the State of Kentneck shall have ceded full jurasdiction to the United States.

Strike out the last clause of the second section of the bill as it comes from the House, providing that no money shall be paid under this act until all claims for taxes assessed against the easal shall have been released, and add to the bill the following new section:

That if at any time it becomes necessary to enforce the lieu of mortgage on said canal property for the benefit of the United States, it shall se lawful for fits Trustee who may be appointed in purcance of the law of Kentucky, to commence proceedings these on the Other States and Law of the United States, it shall se lawful for fits Trustee who may be appointed in purcance of the law of Kentucky, to commence proceedings these on the other than the property of the United States is the same processing the second section of the United States, it shall see lawful canal, whose duty it shall be low notify the Attorney-General shall have the superintendence of said canal, whose duty it shall be feet as if the said Attorney-General shall cannot be not provided to the superintendence of the law not be taken up. He did not desire to prevent any Senator making a speech on the subject, and, at the proper time, he would move to lay it on the table.

Mr. GARPENTER said so far as he was concerned he meant business, and wanted the Senate either to pass the bill or kill it. He did not bring it here for a foot-ball that speeches might be made, but for action.

The bill was then taken up.

Mr. FRELINGHUNSEN made a legal argument as to the powers of the President under the Constitution, and contended that the appeal made to him to interfere in Louisians was one which he was compelled to heed, being sworn to execute the laws. The procedure contemplated here was without precedent in the history of the General Government, and if the Federal Government, in the exercise of arbitrary power, was to set aside State Legislatures and State Governments, then there would be an end to all State rights. Congress had better far let a State suffer for its own misdeeds, even let the innocent suffer with the guilty. The Federal Government had guaranteed to Louisiana a Government when its troops were sent there. If there had been frauds in the election and usurpation of office, let the remedy be found in the courts of the United States. If Congress should interfere now, it should be to install McEnery rather than order a new election, as the Senstor from Wisconsin (Carpenter) admitted that he (McEnery) had 9,606 majority of the votes. If there had been fraud on his side, it made no difference, as he had a prima facie claim to office, and it was for the courts to put him out afterwards, upon being satisfied that a fraud had been perpetrated. He did not want to be understood as entertaining the opinion that McEnery should be Governor, as he did not think so. Union Kallog the people have order. He is Governor in accordance with the will of the people, having had a majority of legal votes cast.

In conclusion, he argued that there could be no possible propriety in Congress ordering a new head as a part of the courts of the people, hav

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Mr. WOODFORD, from the Committee on Civil Service Reform, reported a bill to provide for a Commission to reorganize the customs service. Referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Mr. KELLOGG, from the same Committee, reported a bill for the reorganization of the Treasury Department. Same reference, and made the special order for 28th April.

Also, a bill abolishing the office of Appraiser of Imported Merchandise at Providence, Portland, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Memphis, Evansville, Louisville, Norfolk, Mobile, Toledo, and Pittsburgh, and providing that there shall be only one Appraiser of Imported Merchandise at Philadelphia, Baltimore, Charleston, and Savannah.

Philadelphia, Baltimore, Charleston, and Savannah.

Mr. DAWES intimated that the Committee of Ways and Means had been at work upon the same class of business which really belonged to his Committee. Still, he did not object to this ambitious young Committee on Civil Service Reform doing a grand work, but he wished to have some notice of what it was doing.

Mr. KELLOGG defended the action of the Committee on Civil Service Reform, and said that Mr. Dawes, in his famous speech some months ago, had called attention to the necessity of this reform. The gentleman (Dawes) had been always loud-spoken in favor of general reform, but never tried to bring it home to special cases. That was what the Committee on Civil Service Reform was seeking to do now.

After an animated colloquy between Messrs. KELLOGG. DAWES. CONGER. EVANS, MYERS, and SCOPIELD, the latter moved to strike out Philadelphia from the list of those ports to be confined to one Appraiser.

Mr. EAMES moved to strike out Providence from the list of ports. where the office of Appraiser was to be abolished.

Mr. PLATT moved to strike out Cleveland. All these amendments were rejected except in the case of Philadelphia, as to which it was explained by Mr. Kellogg that the bill would not interfere with the General Appraiser there, who would still have an Appraiser under him. Under that explanation, the amendment was withdrawn.

Mr. PARSONS then moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived.

Mr. PARSONS then moved to lay the bill on the table. Negatived.

The bill was then passed.

ELECTION OF SENATORS

Mr. GRAMER introduced a joint resolution submitting to the Legislatures of the several States an Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, providing for the election of United States Senators by the people of the respective States. Referred to the Committee but the Judiciary.

The House then took up the Currency bill, and Mr. Butler (Mass.) withdrew his motion to substitute the Senate bill for the House bill, giving as his reason that he had been assured by the Chairman of the Banking Committee that after as his reason that he had been assured by the Chairman of the Banking Committee that after this bill had passed, he would move to go to the Speaker's table, and take up and pass the Senate bill.

Mr. MAYNARD, Chairman of the Banking Committee, stated that it was his intention that when the pending bill was disposed of, to move to go to the Speaker's table, and take, up and pass the Senate bill, and that he should move the previous question.

pass the Senate bill, and that he should move the previous question.

Several amendments were offered, and then Mr. Maynard moved the previous question on the bill and amendments.

The previous question was seconded—114 to 82 and the main question ordered.

The first vote was on the following amendment, offered by R. R. Hear:

Section—That from and after the 4th of July, 1878, nothing but gold and silver con of the United States shall be a legal-sender for the payment of any debt thereoffer contracted.

Rejected—Yeas, 70; mays, 171.

The next vote was on the amendment offered by Mr. FOSTER (Ohio), providing that whenever the National bank-note circulation shall exceed $400,000,000, legal-tender notes shall be reduced and canceled to the extent of 35 per cent of such excess until the outstanding and unpaid legal-tender notes shall be reduced to $200,000,000. The amendment was rejected—Yeas, 105; mays, 135.

The question then recurred on the bill reported by the Committee: It was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time without the yeas and nays.

A CONFERENCE DETERMINED UPON.

In the morning, the friends of Mr. Hoar met in consultation, and passed the following votes: Voted, That a committee of five, on the part of the friends of Judge Hoar, be appointed to confer with a like committee of the supporters of Mr. Dawes, for the purpose of securing the withdrawal of Mesers. Dawes and Hoar as candidates for the office of United States Senator, and for the further purpose of uniting in condidates for the office of United States Senator, and for the further purpose of uniting in conference for the selection of a candidate to be supported for that office;

Voted, That the Committee consist of Messral Hawes, of Bristol; Sprague, of Farmingham; Charles Robinson, Jr., of Newton; Nye, of the Island District; and Mason, of Plymouth.

This measure had the purpose to place the friends of Hoar on record as desirous of of the differences of the party. Not much expectation was entertained that it would be favorably considered by the Dawes faction. Is was further understood at the conference that all should vote for Hoar on the first ballot, but that gentlemen were free to indulge their preferences afterwards.

Judge Booth, in a long opinion yesterday morning, decided the demurrer in the case of Bush v. Storey. Nearly two years ago the Times published an article showing up some of the habits of the divorce shysters of the Chicago Bar, Among these William Bush, the plaintiff in the present suit, figures prominently. He was called a "shyster," and "divorce shyster,"

THE DECISION.

The decision is as follows:

This is an action brought by William Bush against Wilbur F. Storey, in which the plaintiff seeks to rerecover damages for an alleged libel published in the payer of the defendant. There are five counts in the declaration, which has been somewhat elaborately drawn,—certainly at great length.

IN THE FIRST COUNT

the plaintiff sets forth that at the time of the committing of the grievances hereinafter mentioned, he was regularly and tawfully admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor at law and solicitor in chancery in the various courts of the State of Illinois; that he was engaged in the practice of his profession as such counselor and attorney-at-law. He also states that there had been, was,

HOME MISSIONS.

Mr. Blackburn, from the Committee of Home Missions, reported that $2,575 had been given to ministers for deficiencies in salaries, etc., and $4,500 to churches. In June, the Committee lecided to renew the application for $1,000 to upport the Rev. E. R. Davis for another year support the Rev. E. B. Davis for anomal year as general missionary within the bounds of the Presbytery. In connection with him, they had endeavored to see that the more promising points for missionary work had been supplied. The Committee on Education reported that he contributions last year were over $5,000. our young men had been aided. Unusual care had been exercised, as the churches demanded that they might have assurance that the money had not been wasted on unworthy subject s.

The Committee on Publication reported that thot Joseph Bates, colporteur, had sold 697 vol-umes and given away 198, as well as 28,600 pages SUSTENTATION.

the y had received but one application during the year,—from the church at Naperville, for $300,—and recommended that it be granted.

$306,—and recommended that it be granted. Concurred in.

CHURCH ERECTION.

The Committee on Church Erection reported that they had aided but one church, that at Braidwood to the extent of $700, toward the srection of a place of worship. They called attention to the importance of sustaining the work, and recommended that a collection betaken up for the treasury of the Board.

The Special Committee to dissolve the pastoral relations between the Rev. L. H. Reed and the Eighth Church of Chicago, submitted a resolution recommending the dissolution, which, they believed, only a financial exigency could have brought about. The resolution was adopted.

The Secretary read a letter from the First Church at Wilmington, tendering a call to the Rev. R. K. Wharton to become their pastor. Mr. Wharton said he would accept, and a committee was appointed to install him.

The Committee on the State of Religion reported that thirty-eight out of forty-two churches had been heard from, nearly all showing a good degree of interest, ordinary to extraordinary progress, and all hopeful for the future. Attention was called to the following interesting particulars. 1. An increased attend-breeting particulars. 1. An increased attendance upon the prayer-meetings, with more tarnest interest therein. 2. Increased attendance upon church services to such a degree that nearly one-fourth of the churches have either marged or have need of enlarging their buildings. 3. The benevolent work of the Church is impreving. 4. The Sabbath-school work is very favorable, and conversions are many.

mlarged or have need of enlarging their buildings. 3. The benevolent work of the Church is improving. 4. The Sabbath-school work is very favorable, and conversions are many.

SINDAT-SCHOOLS.

The Committee on Sunday-Schools reported that a Sunday-School Association had been or-genized; it was well officered, and gave promise of accomplishing good results. They were mable to give any satistics, as the Superintendente had neglected to fill out and return the blanks sent them.

The Rev. J. M. Gibson, the new pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, was admitted to the Presbytery on a letter from the Montreal Conference.

The application of Lacentate J. K. Wilson for a letter to the Cayuga Conference was taken up. He was not considered a "worthy brother," or fit to preach, and, afte previous meeting of the Presbytery, a letter of dismissal was refused.

Mr. Young moved that the letter be granted.

After some quibbling,—it being contended that the motion was not in order,—the Moderator act decided to untertain it, and the matter was referred to a special committee to report at the next meeting; and Mr. Wilson will continue to hang "between heaven and farth" until that time, and perhaps longer.

The Charges against Prop. swing.

The Moderator, that to Moderator—is there any motion with reto the time for the report of this Com-

Church.
Mr. Hurd—I would inquire whether it is possible that we will be in session so-morrow morning?

Mr. Ely.—I think it is very doubtful. I suppose that possibly the report might be crewded through, but I think it is very doubtful whether the Committee would be prepared to report to-morrow morning, and I hope the motion to adjourn until next Monday will be carried, that the Committee may have until that time to prepare their report.

Mr. Trowbridge—To my observation. Mr. Moderator, the motion does not cover the point before us as to the disposition to be made of the matter. It needs to be amended by the addition of the clause that this Committee be requested to report at that time.

Dr. Patterson—An adjourned meeting would, of course, be competent to take up any business that might come before it, and this report would be pending, of course, if it is deferred until that time. I think it is desirable that we should have more time, although, as has been said, we might crowd through our report by to-morrow morning; yet I do not think we could prepare such a report as we would be fully satisfied with. Considering the liabilities in this case, we want to feel very sure that all that we recommend is correct, and worthy of the acceptance of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend is correct, and worthy of the acceptance of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend in the content of the course of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend in the course of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend in the course of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend in the course of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend in the course of the Preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceivery sure that all that we recommend to the preceiver sure that all that we recommend to the preceiver feel very sure that all that we recommend is correct, and worthy of the acceptance of the Preebytery.

The question was then put on the motion to meet at half-past 16 o'clock. Monday morning, in the Second Preebyterian Church, and it was unanimously agreed to.

Mr. Trowbridge—I rise to a point of order. It is to inquire whether it is known by whom that paper [the charges] was surreptitiously taken from the table and carried away. If it be known, sir, and if it were done by a reporter, and he be in this house, I shall move his expulsion from this time forth.

A Presbyter—I rise to another point of order. We have had a report from the Judicial Committee, lat we have not rejected or accepted it.

The Moderator—There is a point of order before the House in regard to the taking of the paper. The inquiry is raised whether it is known by whom that report was taken. As there is no response the point will lapse.

Mr. Trowbridge—Dr. Patterson said it had been taken, and he might be able to give additional information. It is a very serious matter that so important a paper should be taken. The reporter knew it was an important paper, knew it was important that it should go directly into the hands of the Committee; and it was a theft, and nothing short of it.

Mr. Kittredge—I am sure the Chairman of the Committee is able to make it clear. The reporters. PRECAUTIONS FOR The FUTURE.

PRECAUTIONS FOR THE FUTURE.

Dr. Patterson—I think, Mr. Moderator, that, although the offense seems to me to be a flagrant one, it would not be well for us to go into the matter. It is past now, and we eannot help it; we shall look out for our reports in the future [smiles], and our documents, and see that they are not taken possession of surreptitiously, and carried away. The office editor of the paper sent me an apology last night, and also this morning, when the copy was returned saying that it was very much against his wishes, and he regretted exceedingly that it should have been done. If it is necessary, I will state what paper it is, to save the others from any implied imputation in regard to it.

Mr. Taylor—I hope we shall hear what paper it was.

Dr. Patterson—The Chicago Times. Hope

Dr. Patterson—The Chicago Times. [Loud laughter.]

Mr. Trowbridge—Is the reporter who took that paper in the house?

Dr. Patterson—I do not know the reporter, and trust the Presbytery will drop the matter. The Committee were somewhat at fault in permitting the reporters the courtesy of looking looking over and making a brief abstract of the paper; but it had always been done in the Presbytery, and I did not suspect, as the Chairman of the Committee, that any advantage would be taken of it. It has never been done before, and I do not think it will ever be done again. [Smiles.]

A MOTION OF EXPULSION.

I do not think it will ever be done again.

[Smiles.]

Mr. Taylor—I move, that any representative of the Times who is kere in this room be requested to leave the room and not be admitted to the seesions of the Presbytery again.

Mr. Trowbridge—I second the motion. The matter is more serious to my mind than it is to some others. This abuse of privilege ought to be stopped. We cannot keep our hands upon our pockets all the time. The paper was the property of the body, and it was taken away surreptitiously after the individual had been advised not to take it, and I am not willing to let it go by unnoticed.

rised not to take it, and I am not willing to let it go by unnoticed.

Dr. Swazey—I hope the matter will drop where it is. The reporter of the Times has been what has been said, and it seems to me that is sufficient. There is no sort of necessity, from my standpoint, of being at all severs in regard to it. The thing is to prevent its being done again.

A GRIEVOUS PENALTY.

Mr. Holt—It appears to me that the best thing to do to have a recurrence of the event is irrence of the event is to drop the matter as has been proposed. Where is the dignity of this body? I move to amend that the individual who committed the act be deprived of the privileges of the room. [Sensation.]

prived of the privileges of the room. [Sensation.]

Mr. Kittredge—As the Times has sent an apology to the Chairman of the Judicial Committee, it certainly would be becoming to drop the matter. The Times reporter is simply the representative of the paper, and the paper which he represented has apologized for the act.

Mr. Trowbridge—That is the first I have heard of an apology being made.

Mr. Burroughs—We will only make ourselves ludicrous by discussion.

TWIN APOLOGIES.

Dr. Patterson—Not only one apology, but two apologies were sent to me by the office editor of the Times, expressing exceeding regret that the thing should have occurred, and stating that it was not done by any means with their sanction.

Mr. Weller—I move that the question be laid.

Mr. Walker—I move that the question be laid

The motion was agreed to.

DR. M'KAIG.

The Rev. Dr. Patterson then read the following report:

The Committee appointed at a former meeting of the Presbytery, to inquire in regard to the action of the Ninth Presbyterian Church of Chicago, in relation to Dr. Wilbur McKaig, and the sentiments advanced by him in certain sermons, and to recommend to this body such procedure as in their judgment may seem proper in the premises, respectfully report as follows:

We have made careful inquiry touching the case of Dr. Wilbur McKaig and the Ninth Church of this city. We find that, in the apring of 1873, that church, or a committee of the congregation, invited Dr. McKaig to preach for them a few Sabbatha, having in view permanent settlement with them if the parties should be mutually pleased in acquaintance with each other; and that after several weeks, a call to Dr. McKaig was voted by the congregation. Dr. McKaig spinfied a disposition to accept the call; but, as the Fresbytery are aware, it was not placed in the hands of the Presbytery, not has Dr. McKaig appeared at any of our meetings. Still he continued to preach regularly in the pulpit, and to perform pastoral work among the people, of which the Presbytery was not officially advised. It is due, however, to the session of the church to state that they were not aware that they were expected to ask the permission of the Presbytery to employ Dr. McKaig during the months that they have not intended any disregard of the rules of this body.

TRIFFE MEMBERT POPULAR

We have learned from the session of the church that the above of Dr. McKaig have been generally well received by the congregation, and that the ordinary attendance upon the public services has been much larger since he began to preach in their pulpit than it was before.

The two sermons of Dr. McKaig that were reported in The Chicago Transies on the three developed in the fluids, and declared in our Confession of Faith. It is unequivocable material that (men) are toold they must believe in inspired of God. *

BIND HIM TO SACKAMENICO.

But Dr. McRaig is not a member of this Presbytery, and is not therefore subject to our jurisdiction. We therefore, recommend that the two sermons referred to be made and forwarded to the Presbytery of Sacramento, of which he is still a member, and that the attention of that body be called to the peculiar sentiments which they inculcate, especially in the paragraphs of the earlier discourse on "The Story of the Pillar of Salt," and other paragraphs in the second discourse.

We deem it the solemn duty of this Presbytery to ask the Presbytery of Sacramento to recall the letter which they have given to Dr. McRaig, and inquire into the dectrinal soundness of his teachings, in the two sermons of which we have spoken.

the two sermons of which we have spoken.

LET HIM GO.

We recommend also that the nession of the Ninth Presbytian Church be advised by the Presbytery to request Dr. McKaig to cease preaching to that congregation at as early a day as in their judgment would consist with their engagements to him, at least until the Presbytery of Sacramento shall have pronounced upon the character of his teachings on the fundamental question of inspiration.

THAT THEFF AGAIN.

The theft of the charges was again discussed, but nothing new was said except by the Times reporter, a brunette, who dyes his hair blonds in order to be in the fashion. He desired to make a statement, and the Presbytery by vote allowed him the privilege. He said: "The Times does not recognize saything of the kind. The man who took the charges is disapputable, and was drunk, and he will not have an opportunity to do it again."

This speech brought down the house, not with applause, but with penitence, many of the Presbytera, especially those who had said hard things, approaching the blonde and expressing regret for what they had said.

The Presbytery then adjourned to meet at half-past 10 o'clock Monday morning in the Second Presbyterian Church, when she Judicial Committee, if their report is net grabbed beforehand by a reporter, will submit it to the brethren.

To the Editor of the Chicago Tribuns:

Sir: A friend who is far more skilled in such matters than I am, and who has ever had the and duties of the coming Convention at Bloomngton, in a letter to me, that I venture, without his consent, to make a few extracts, with the view of eliciting thought upon them, in all our counties, before the Convention. He says:

"First—We must be bold and determined.

Timid, half-way measures will invite certain defeat. We know that the ends we seek are good, honest, and worthy. We can, and we must, assume the aggressive, and go into the fight with banners aloft and drums beating, determined to win.

Second—All, for the present, at least, will depend upon your action at Bloomington. The most desperate attempts will there be made, by both of the old parties, as such, to capture the Convention. It must be prevented at all hazards. We shall there be between Scylla and Charybdis,—the danger of falling into the hands of the old parties, on the one hand, and, en the other, of driving from us really good men of both parties. If we run that gauntlet safely, we shall sweep the State. But how can this be we shall sweep the State. But how can this be done?

"Third—First of all, by a brief, terse, clear, and strong declaration of principles, that shall repel old parties, as such, but invite and attract every honest man in both of them. We must make no war upon Republicans or Democrass, as such, but level all our guns against unjust monopolists, corruptionists, plunderers, defiant corporations, tax-caters, extravagance, and profligacy of expenditures, time-servers, and self-seeking demagogues of all sorts; and summon the people, irrespective of past party affiliations, to join us in the holy war.

"Fourth—Much will depend on the name chosen for the new party. 'Farmers' party' will not do at all; it is too narrow, and would put us at once on the defensive against the charge of inconsistency, because the farmers, as such, are a class, as much so as the monopolists themselves. It should be a short, comprehensive name. 'The Peoples' Anti-Monopoly party' expresses about the right thing, but it is too long. I would suggest either 'Anti-Monopoly' or the Teople's party.' It is absolutely essential that the plan of action should be agreed upon in the main before the Convention meets, or, at least, well thought over; and that its adoption be assured in outline beforehand. This can be done by the timely eifort and thoughts of all the members. If the hisy Convention finds us all at sea on these points, nothing short of a miracle can save us from destruction."

So says our friend. I need not say that I concur most heartily in these sentiments, and will only add that, if we can only manage to organize our new party so that it can naturally grow, like the cedare of Lebanon, from the bottom upwards, all ages will have reason to bless our memory. But, if we go on to organize it on the old cancus-system, to be manipulated from the top downwards, we shall, in the end, have the most corrupt and dangerous party that was ever on this continent. Yours truly,

ST. LOUIS' LAST PROJECT.

ST. LOUIS' LAST PROJECT.

St. Louis, April 13.—The proposition to establish direct trade between the Mississippi Valley States and Brasil, by putting on a line of steamsings from New Orleans to Rio Janeiro, is attracting a great deal of attention. A speech recently made before the Board of Trade by Col. Sam C. Reid, of New Orleans, in which he fully explained the project, and gave an elaborate account of the benefits and profits which must inevitably result therefrom, is published, and is the subject of general comment and approval on 'Change to-day. All classes of business-men heartily indorse the scheme, and the press speaks most favorably of it. A joint committee of the Board of Trade and Marchants' Exchange who have been examining the matter some days past, will report approvingly to-morrow, and there is no doubt the suterprise will receive aid from the merchants of this city.

clent, certainly, so far as regards the question of form.

Is it good in substance? The question presented is one which I believe is novel. I am not aware of its having ever been presented in this Court before. It may have been presented in some of the courts previously, but I am not aware of that fact—whether the word "shyster," as applied to an attorney and counsellor-at-law, in connection with his professional character, is actionable. This is a word of ms processional character, is actionable. This is a word of COMPARATIVELY RECENT DATE.

Neither the clymology nor the signification of it is given in any of our dictionaries that I am aware of it may find its place in some future dictionary, but it has not yet reached a position as one of the accepted words of our language; but, at the same time, we are not therefore to conclude that it is a word void of meaning, by any means. It is certainly understood by the profession as having some sort of meaning, and I believe that the profession generally regard it as not a very complimentary term, at least. The pleader has stated the missning of the term, as I think was quite proper, and upon this question—the emission raised upon demurrer—It to assumed that the meaning has been correctly with the amount of the product of a synony with the amount of optimize, rouse, chest, tried mave, shark, sharper, swindler,—that it is, inclusionse; and if such is the case it seems to me that can be no doubt whatever but that

as applied to a practicing attorney and counsel, connection with his professionial character and mess. Certainly, those words, if used in publicate

Court must assume that the meaning has been correctly asserted.

I come to the conclusion, therefore, that this first count in the declaration is good, and that consequently the demurser therefor must be overruled.

THE SECOND COUNT

commences like the former with an inducement of the professional character and occupation of the plaintiff as an attorney and counsellor at law, and also sets forth that as such solicitor and counsellor he had, at the time when and so forth, been concerned in the prosecution of a certain suit for divorce in the Superior Court of said county, on the chancery side thereof, in which said suit one James Kinkead was complainant, and his wife, one Joanna Kinkead, was defendant, and the said plaintiff had always behaved and conducted himself therein with skill, care, judgment, and integrity, and so forth; but that the defendant, well knowing the premises, but contriving to in jure the plaintiff, in his credit reputation, profession and business, and so on, it to be thought, suspected, and believed that the care

it to be shought, suspected, and believed that the can plaintiff was

and counsellor at law and solicitor and counsellor in chancery at the Chicago Har; and had assued it to be believed that he had conducted himself ignorantly and unskillfully in the management of the divorce suit referred to; that the detendant published, of and concerning the plaintiff, and of and concerning him in his said profession, the following false, scandalous, and defamatory likel, setting it forth:

"A Jolly Mother-in-Law,—On yesterday James Kinkad, through the most illiterate practitioner at the Chicago Bar [meaning the said plaintiff, filed a bill reciting his woes," and so on, the gist of the matter-being the statement that the plaintiff, through the most illiterate practitioner at the Chicago Bar [meaning the spinitiff had filed a bill.

There is no allegation, nor does it appear from the alleged libelous matter set out, that there is any allegation that the plaintiff did not conduct himself in the case in hand, with due professional skill and learning, but it is the simple allegation that he is the most illiterate member of the Chicago Bar. The question is presented whether that is actionable when spoken of a member of the Chicago Bar. I confess that I do not set that it is actionable. There must be, among a large and respectable body of practitioners here in Chicago, one who is the most illiterate member of the Chicago Bar. The remish to the professional skill and the chicago Bar, whoever it may be. There must be, a mong a large and respectable body of practitioners here in Chicago, one who is the most illiterate member of the Chicago Bar. The remish be wide in the present suit, figures prominently. He was called a "shyster," and "divorce shyster," alliuded to as the "most illiterate member of the bat," and as a "fearfully and wonderfully ignorant man." Some claims to literary attainments on the part of Bush were also sarcastically alluded to in the article. Bush, feeling aggrieved, began a suit for libel, laying his damages at the sum of $50,000.

ADEMURER WAS FILED, on the ground that the word "shyster" was not abitionable. After keeping the matter under advisement about three months, Judge Booth rendered a decision yesterday, which will be found below.

The difficulty, as the Judge remarked, was that the word had not any recognized meaning in the English language. But it would seem, certainly, that if it had no meaning, or a very vague and varying signification, that it could not be regarded as a libel to apply it, rightfully or wrongfully, to a person. And the decision seems to have stretched the power of a Judge somewhat, by arbitrarily giving such a signification to the word, on the sole ground "that the pleader having alleged that it implied rogue, cheat, shark, sharper, swindler, therefore that must be accepted as the interpretation." As regards the expression, "The most illiterate member of the bar," the decision was eminently proper, and the reason given plain. As regards the allegations so by law required, the count of course must have been considered faulty.

THE DECISION.

that I do not see that it is actionable. There must be, among a large and respectable body of practitioners here in Chicago, one who is the most illiterate member of the Chicago Bar, whoever it may be. There might be wide

DIFFERENCES OF OPINION AS TO THE INDIVIDUAL, but it is obvious that there must be one who is more illiterate than any other member of the Chicago Bar, but to say that of any member of the Chicago Bar, not necessarily actionable. One may be the most illiterate and yet possess amadequate degree of learning to practice his profession in a reputable and satisfactory manner to his client. To say to any particular person, a member of a respectable body, or society, or class of individuals, that he is the most illiterate of a learned class, is in fact simply to say that he is the least learned of his associates, and is by no means actionable, as it seems to me; I shall therefore sustain the demurrer to the associate, and is by no means actionable, as it seems to me; I shall therefore sustain the demurrer to the associate, and also with the inducements that there was at the time when, and so forth, a class of persons, solicitors, practicing in the courts of said country, who were commonly and popularly called, and generally known and designated as "divorce shysters," which said solicitors, to-wit, some of them, in violation of approved professional conduct and practice, actually in fact adversised in the various saveyapapers that they alm had conduct—a diagrace to the professional conduct and practice, actually in fact adversised in the various saveyapapers that they are also as a class generally understoed to be unworthy, mendacious, dishonest, and of bad repute, and so forth, and that they are notoriously persons of bad repute and bad conduct—a diagrace to the profession, and that they are also as a class generally understoed to be unworthy, mendacious, dishonest, and of bad repute, and so rearrants, and an unfit had plaintiff its a divorce shysters, and to he of the same of the plaintiff is a divo

I am inclineed to think that these words, spoken of a respectable a UTHOR, as this anthor is represented as being, would be libelous; but it seems to me there is one defect in the matter of form which I believe a referred to. There is no inducement except inforentially—slingsether inferentially—that the plaintiff is a fearfully and a wonderfully ignorant man. It is not alleged that he is not thus, only laish inferential way. Now the law presumes, in all cases where a person sues for words which are actionable per se, that he is a man of good reputation; that he has never been gaility of any misdemeanor; although it is common when the words impute a crime, or or riminal conduct, to commence an inducement to that effect, yet it is always understood by the profession that it is unnessary to commence with any such inducement in such cas

He Declines to He a Candidate for Congress.

South Bend, Ind., April 4, 1874.

The Hon. Devid Turner, of Lake County; Thomas Jernesan, of Laporte County; M. L. McCielland, of Porter County; C. W. McPherson, of Carroll County, and others:

My Dear Friends: Besides your friendly letters, I have received many other requests, oral or written, from citizens of this district, to accept a candidacy for Congress. And it is due also to several gentlemen spoken of for this position, but who have so kindly proffered to yield in my favor, that I should state, in some public way, what I have uniformly said personally during the past twelvemonth.

There is no office that I would prefer to that of Representative of the old constituency by which I was eight times unanimously nominated for Corgress, and always so generously and cordially supported. While I live I shall never forget that long-continued confidence and esteem which I so highly prized, and of which I so constantly strove to be worthy. But, after belonging to the public for twenty years, I belong now to my family, who cannot consent that this ownership shall be changed. I have found too, that the truest happiness in life is in being out of office, and master of one's own time and movements. And, therefore, no possible inducement nor contingency, that I can either imagine or foresee, could tempt me to desire a return to Congressional life, with what are so well known to be "its cares and toils, its carcions and responsibilities, its injustice and falsifications, its envyings and all uncharitableness." My old constituents must pardon me for insiating that, in their future Congressional envesses, I must be counted only as a voter, and under no circumstances as a candidate. If public life can be ranked as a duty not to be evaded, I have cartainly performed a full share of that duty. If, however, as is generally considered, it is regarded as a pleasure, I have certainly had of that pleasure more than any one citizen had a right to claim or expect. I have faithfully striven to serve my country with such industry, fidelity, and integrity, as to have a conscience void of offense toward God and man. And, looking back over those long years, with more hours given to public duties than any business-man at home gave to his private affairs, and which almost cost me my life, I can see nothing in the record of that public life which, "dying, I would wish to blot." That our political friends may exhibit the same unity and zeal in future contests which won victory in so many conflicts of the past; and thanking you for such valued manifestations of your unshaken faith and friendly regard, I am, very truly yours, Schutzer Colyax.

hearing the case of William J. Walker against the Cincinnati, Peru & Chicago Railroad Company and a number of its stockholders. The trouble arose under a contract for building the road of the above-named Company. Walker, about 1855, engaged to build, and did actually construct about thirty miles of road from Laporte to Plymouth, Ind. The road was by the charter to be constructed from Laporte to Peru, a distance of about 70 miles. A large balance remained due, and complainant, after waiting a year or two, brought sait and recovered judgment for $129,491.43. Shortly after, the road was sold under two mortgages. Walker attempted. sold under two mortgages. Walker attempted, but unsuccessfully, to obtain a juror lien. One other remedy remained. By the laws of Indiana it is provided that stockholders shall be made individually liable for debts contracted made individually liable for dabts contracted for labor done on the construction of a road after the assets of the corporation had been exhausted. The judgment, and about half a dozen executions issued thereon and returned "no property found," had proved that the assets were exhausted. LOCAL MISCELLANY.

PROF. SWING. Yesterday afternoon, a reporter of THE TRIB-ng called upon Prof. Swing in order to ask him in relation to the charges recently preferred by Prof. Patton, and especially that one in which the Rev. Laird Collier is a witness. The Pro-fessor was found at the Alliance office, and the following conversation ensued:

reaght against you by Prof. Patton, regarding your statements to Laird Collier?

Prof. Swing—Yes, I will tell you all I know about it. The charge must have originated in the fact that Brother Laird asked me to join with Dr. Bellows and Robert Collyer and Mr. wendte in dedicating his new church, and I declined, and also reminded him that I had done my share of work in thoring about a kinder feeling and conduct a between his sect and mine, and that kind words spoken in my own pulpit towards such men would be better than preaching in his pulpit, for such preaching would perhaps annoy my own people.

The fact that soon after this dedication Laird prached a discourse in which he mourned over the property of the property of the property of the product of a Calvanistic corpse, shows that

The fact that soon after this dedication Laird prached a discourse in which he mourned over me as bound to a Calvanistic corpse, shows that he did not interpret my words as indicating that I had reached his liberty. It is possible, but not probable, that anything was said above what is stated here.

Reporter—What about George A. Shufeldt?

Prof. Swing—Well, Prof. Patton has got hold of a legend, which has grown by going. Mr. Shufeldt called to-day to see me. He says that, when I first came to Chicago, eight years ago, we had a correrpondence about the idea that God made men and also infants in a might have the pleasure of damning them. He says I wrote him a letter or two stating that the modern Calvinists had abandoned this whole line of thought about God. He remembers no particulars, and thus, between our two memories, my theology of eight years ago falls out of sight. It it is possible I was not so orthodox then as I now am. Shufieldt is, by the way, a strange, good fellow. He is a Spiritualist and free thinker of the higher type. He does not go to a table to hold converse by rappings with the angels, but communes in his soul with those grand immortals.

He puzzled me the last time we met. He said: "Where does the Ribbe speak of the Lord as having shaved with a hirred razor?" I gave it up, and he informed me. Look it up, reporter, sometime.

Mr. Ackoff held that the land in the vicinity of the railroads was worth less at present than it was thirty-six years ago. Ald. Kehoe stated that he had purchased land on Carroll street because it was near the railroad. He supported the views of Mr. Crane, which were against opposing the railroads.

Mr. Crane took a solemn oath that he was not interested in the railroads.

The Chair stated that he had been assured by Mr. Walker, Attorney for the roads interested, that the Railroad Companies were willing to build the viaducts, but not the approaches. He remunded the meeting that the question was whether they wanted to let the railroads do what they wanted without restraint.

Mr. Acrhoff said that if the railroads wanted the property they could at once acquire it by condemaing it, without waiting until the viaduct was built.

To the Editor of The Chicago Tribune:
SRI: It is the Rev. Mr. McChesney, of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, this time, who has distinguished himself by trying to prove that, wherever the Bible speaks in favor of the use of "wine," sweet juice of the grapes is meant; but that, wherever a sentence against the excess of wine occurs, fermented or alcoholic wine is to be understood. It is to be accepted as a matter of course, therefore, that Christ made use of "sweet juice" when He first instituted the holy sacrament. Would not the reverend gentleman condescend to tell us by what process the people of those times succeeded in keeping the "sweet unfermented juice" to the month of March or April,—as the Jewish Easter (the time of the establishment of the holy sacrament) must have fallen in either of these months? It is certainly an art of which the best chemists of the present day are ignorant; and considering the almost tropical dimate of Palestine, where grapes ripen by the latter part of August, it is something remarkable that "juice should have kept" sweet for about eight months without fermenting, no alcohol being added. Yours truly.

CRAILES PROCESTING. THE HALSTED STREET VIADUCT.

A meeting of the citizens of the Eleventh Ward was held yesterday evening at No. 67 North Halsted street to consider the question of the erection of the Halsted street viaduct. On motion of ex-Ald. Ackboff, Ald. White was called to the chair, and Mr. Charles Perry was called to the chair, and Mr. Charles Perry was called to the strip workers of the ward.

EX-ALD. ACKHOFF implies that the public had rights which the railroads ought to respect, and one of these was the erection by the latter of the approaches to the viaduct, which he thought it was unfair to ask the people to pay for. He thought that the capital of the railroads was misappropriated in the bolstering up of wrak banks, instead of being employed in paying their workmen. They should be forced to act in a just manner. Mr. C. Crane de not think that the railroads were altogether in the wrong. He thought that, if the railroads took charge of the property involved, it would increase its value.

The case of the Robinson Brothers, charged with receiving 235 yards of stolen silk from the store of William H. Hagdon, at No. 252 Wabash avenue, last January, was on trial before Judge Gary, of the Grimmal Court, resterday.

It appeared in the evidence that, on the 22d of January last, four men went into Mr. Hagdon's store, and took 235 yards of silk of various colors. A search-warrant was placed in the hands of detectives, who visited the Robinson House, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Lake street, kept by the Robinson Brothers, and seized property supposed to have been stolen part of which was claimed to have been stolen from Hagdon's store. Two pieces of satin were alleged to have been stolen from G. D. Gowan, at No. 4 Washington street. The goods were produced in court as evidence against the prisoners. At the close of the teatimony, Abraham Robinson was discharged, none of the property having been in his possession. In defense, Isaac Robinson brought evidence showing that he had the silk in his possession from two to-four years; that the wife of Abraham Robinson brought it from Boston, and presented it to his wife in 1869. The satin was shown to have been purchased by Isaac Robinson the word of the detectives, published statements in regard to the Robinson Brothers, which were proven on the trial to be utterly unitue. They were shown not to have stolen any goods, and not to have had anything to do with receiving stolen goods. Their character, which always stood well, was fully vindicated.

Mayor Colvin says that, so long as the "pretty waiter-girl saloons" are decently conducted, as is his opinion they are at the present time, he will not interfere with them. He cannot understand why he should be expected to dictate to saloon-keepers the class of help they shall employ, when no complaints are made against them. To his mind, there is no law prohibiting them employing females as waiters, and he does not feel called upon to interfere until it can be shown that the places are immoral. In that event he will revoke the licenses, and has so notified the police authorities and saloon-keepers.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

The Village Board of Trustees met Monday evening, Messrs. Heffron, Schultz, Greenam, Martin, Mason, and Lowenthal being present. The resubdivision of Blocks 1 and 2 in Hilliard & Dobbins' first Addition to Washington Heights A Dobbins' first Addition to Washington Heights was ordered approved by the Board, a committee having reported favorably upon it. A sidewalk was ordered laid on Vincennes road, from Tracy avenue to the dummy junction, and the Secretary was instructed to notify parties having buildings or fences trespassing on the line to remove the obstructions without delay. The petition for the vacation of Oak street was discussed, and referred back to the Committee on Highways for one week. The bill of L. Titus and August Heise, for services as special policemen, amounting to $6, was ordered paid, and the Board adjourned.

Work on the Belt Railroad, half a mile north of the village, is pushed rapidly. The track between the Rock Island and Great Eastern Boads is about finished.

Work has been resumed on the new Catholic church and school. The walls are now above ground. The buildings stand on a block of five acres, on Ninety-fifth street, donated by Hilliard & Dobbins.

The mortality report of the Sanitary Superintendent was submitted, showing, for the week ending peri 17, a total of 163 deaths, being strunt the corresponding week in 1873. The largest mortality occurred in the Seventh Ward, and the greatest ratio to population in the Third. From the Beston Astertiser.

The temperance question is receiving a great deal of attention in East Douglas at present. On fast day a union mass meeting was held, and a committee of iadies and gentlemen appointed to wait on the liquor dealers. On Saturday the ladies called upon one of the principal saloons, the proprietor. Mr. L. Simpson, having refused to see the gentlemen, and were recived very politely. He was asked if he thought it right to sell liquors, and responded, "Yes, as right as for grocers to sell groceries."

One of the ladies then read several passages from the Bible, remarking, "Let us see what the Lord says." On hearing the Scriptures relating to the anger of the Lord with drunkards and those who sell liquor, the proprietor turned pale, trembled violently, and clutched the counter convulsively for support. The many loungers in the saloon were stupefied, and only offered assistance when urged by the ladies. On being led into another room he cried severas times: "O God! have mercy on my soul!" Immediately his tongue began swelling, filling his mouth to such an extent as to render at impossible to articulate.

The ladies did all in their power to render him comfortable, and a physician was sent for, who, on arriving, pronounced it a case of apoplexy, and in a short time the man died. The community was, of course, startled with the news, and the feeling for Mr. Simpson is intense. The ladies all agreed that it was the direct work of the Lord, and even some of the frequenters of the saloon acquiesced in this decision.

ture over the election of a successor to the late tor Sumner has probably been broken. The ballot taken yesterday was not materially different from any of its immediate predeces ar's supporters gave their votes to other candates. This example was followed on the third allot by many of the Dawes men, and the net result was a very perceptible gain for Adams. The changing continued through three more ballots, Adams caining largely in each. On the left hall ning largely in each. On the last ballot before adjournment Adams received 37 votes against 13 votes on the first ballot. During the y, Hear's 'vote diminished from 71 to 34, iwes' vote from 87 to 69, and Curtis' vote from 70 to 62. Adams certainly appears to be the coming man. The Legislature of Massachusetts, albeit the course is thrust upon it, is on the very brink of a creditable action.

Prof. Swing has made a statement in regard to the conversation with the Rev. Robert Laird Collier, and the correspondence with Mr. Shufeldt, which are the substantial basis of the charges made by Prof. Patton. The Shufeldt letter was written eight years ago, and Prof. Swing suggests that he may have become very much more orthodox since time. As for the conversation with Mr. Collier, the Professor raises the fatal objection that it was never held. He did use anguage that might be distorted into the shape which Prof. Patton has drawn his specifica tion, but his sympathy for Unitarianism was so slight that Mr. Collier soon afterward, in a published sermon, lamented his (Prof. Swing's) acrifice to the Moloch of Calvinism.

ency question. Maynard's bill passed the House resterday by a vote of 126 to 117, and the Senate bill was afterwards taken from the Speaker's table and passed by a vote of 140 to 102. Both bills are given in full in our Washington dispatches. The House bill provides for free banking, and fixes the maximum amount of United States notes outstanding at any one time at $400,000,000. The Senate bill places the same limit to the legal-tender circulation, but substitutes for the free-banking measure a section increasing the circulation of the National Banks by $46,000,000. There is some evidence of a bargain between Mr. Maynard and Mr. Butler, by the terms of which both parties agreed to the programme carried out yesterday. If this be the true explanation of the peremptory manner adopted by Mr. Maynard and the suave acquiescence of Mr. Butler, it speaks ill for the acuteness of the one and the sincerity of the other. The Senate bill; which Mr. Butler championed, has gone beyond the jurisdiction of Congress: it now awaits the President's signature. Mr. Maynard's bill on the other hand goes to the Senate, where it may or may not be acted on favorably; it may remain untouched till the end of the session. If the Senate were anxious for free banking, it would not probably have limited the increase of National Banking circulation to $46,000,000.

The extent of the Sanborn swindle will proba bly never be definitely ascertained, nor is i necessary that much more of the disgraceful story should be told. We have already learned that Sanborn and certain high Treasury officials conspired to defraud the Government, and that they succeeded in doing so. As the investigation advances, its results become simply cumu lative. The Committee are piling Ossa of Pelion. The evidence submitted yesterday alone would furnish sufficient ground for annulling the contract and dismiss ing from the service of the Govern ment the Treasury officials implicated, yet it elicited nothing which had not previously been established. Mr. Odell, Treasurer of the Delathat the tax due from that Company was retained for the reason that Mr. Pleasonton and his successor made conflicting decisions as to the amount due. When the point in dispute had been settled, Mr. Odell sent to the Treasury a check for the tax assessed. He held no communication with Sanborn; was not aware that such a person existed; but has since learned that two days after the date of the check Sanborn sent a comm was organized to transact, whereupon it may be tion to the Department claiming one-half of the honorably discharged by the House. Lucien Hawley testified that he made collections under a contract granted to one William P. Wood before Sanborn came to the front. We have had well to give Mr. Wood a turn.

THE INDICTMENT OF PROF. SWING

Prof. Patton has at last officially promulgated his indictment of Prof. Swing before the Chicago Presbytery, and has asked leave to prosecute the charges at its bar. The document is a formidable one in dimensions, embracing two charges and twenty-nine specifications, and, as peo ple engaged in the responsible avocations of this world have undoubtedly found life too short to wade through them to the end, it may be a favor to present the substance of them in brief. The material points which Prof. Patton alleges are as follows: 1. Equivocal language in respect to fundamental doctrines. 2. That he (Swing) delivered a lecture in aid of the Unitarian chapel erected in memory of the late Mary Price Collier, and thereby aided to promulgate heresy. 3. That he has given approval to the doctrine known as Sabellianism or the Modal Trinity. 4. That his opinions are in harnony with those of the Unitarian Church, and that he declared to the Rev Robert Laird Collins that he agreed in substance with him. 5. That he has used unwarrantable language with regard to Penelope and Socrates. 6. That he has produced a false charity for fundamental error by sulogizing the late John Stuart Mill, "a wellknown Atheist." 7. That in general he has either not reached, or has spoken disparagingly of, the doctrines of the Trinity, Predestination, the Person of Christ, Infant Baptism, Divine Calls to the Ministry, the Judicial Nature of the Condem. nation of the Lost, Justification by Faith, the Plenary Inspiration of the Bible, the Perseverance of the Saints, and Total Depravity,—the est three being three of the vital points of Calvinism, as affirmed by the Synod of Dort.

These seven charges cover the substance of length by reason of much formal repetition and numerous quotations from Prof. Swing's sermone and writings. Of the general basis of this indictment, namely, that Prof. Swing is preaching heresy, we do not attempt to speak, That is a matter between Prof. Patton (as prosecutor) and Prof. Swing, and we presume that the latter, if he cares to make any defense at all will attend to that charge in his own good time and way. There are, however, other points upon which it is competent for an unprejudiced observer to form and express an opinion withadice the case, and these points are such as do not properly belong to the indictment. The charges that he has delivered a lecture in aid of the Mary Price Collier chapel and a sulogy upon for themselves with other people's money. It is weak at an average advance of 3/c, closing at the character of the late John Stuart Mill, are the business of the city authorities to of a kindred character. They are part and parcel them from doing so with public money. s active and weak, closing 1/c lower, at 621/c of that sectarian bigotry which forbids you to speak well of any person who does chapel lecture, the specification says: "He has manifested a culpable disregard of the essential dostrines of Christianity by giving the weight of his influence to the Unitarian doctrine, and by the unworthy and extravagant laudations in th pulpit and through the press of one who is known not to have believed in the Christian religion: that is to say that some time in the winter and during successive days he was advertised to lecture in the City of Chicago in aid of a Unitarian chapel erected in memory of the late Mary Price Collier, and that h did lecture in aid of said chapel, and in doing so aided in the promulgation of the heresy which denies the Deity of our blessed Lord.' The friends of this gentle and stainless lady and devoted and unostentations Christian, in the best sense of the word, to whose memory men of all denominations contributed to erect the chapel memorial, will be quick to resent the uncalled-for and cruel slur which sectarian bigotry seeks to cast upon her memory. The same criticism will suggest itself as regards the allusions to Mr. Mill. Prof. Swing spoke, as Robert Collyer expressed it, "a sweet, kind word for John Stnart Mill." and for the good he had done to humanity. As to the charge of Atheism brought against Mill, that does not affect Prof. Swing's discourse one way or the other, because the charge is not true. The gravamen of the general charge is that he spoke well of John Stuart Mill and Mary Price Collier, who were not Christians, according to Prof. Patton's views; for this he is formally arraigned and called upon to answer. The fifth point is almost too absurd to dwell upon. Because Prof. Swing thinks that Penelope and Socrates may have received heartier welcome in Heaven than the infamous Catharine II., therefore Prof. Swing is a heretic! The only inference which a person outside of Prof. Patton's bailiwick can gather from this is, that Prof. Swing should have consigned both Penelone and Socrates to eternal demnation in order to show that he was theologically sound. Is not this one of those charges which Dr. Swazer o happily characterized as frivolous? The only other point which suggests itself for notice is the charge that Prof. Swing has given his approval to the doctrine known as Sabelhanism or the Modal Trinity. If this dreadful charge is brought up for serious discussion, it will not only stretch to the crack of doom, but will entail ipon this community, already suffering under the burdens of trying to understand the differences n other denominations, the relative merits of ermented and unfermented wine, and the exact quality of the Rev. Arthur Edwards' home-made, triturated current juice, a fresh burden more grievous than all the others combined. As we inderstand the doctrine of Sabellius, he taught that the manifestation of God was a triad; that is God in himself is one, and always remains so, but he appears to the world as three, and these three forms are not three persons, but only manifestations of the Deity. Prof. Patton's theory, if we understand it. s that there is a trinity of persons in the Godhead, each distinct and vet one. The difference, therefore, between Prof. Patton and Prof. Sabellius,-if that African theologian may be allowed a handle to his name. -is the differnce between one in three, and three in one, i there is such a difference. It is to be hoped that this distressing mathematical and theologi cal combination, neither side of which is susseptible of proof, is not to be sprung upon this citated community. The general view which the outside world will ake of the whole indictment is this: So far as Prof. Patton believes that, in his sermons and other printed writings, Prof. Swing is preaching heresy, he has the undoubted right to prosecute him. So far the indictment is proper, in a denominational sense Every portion of that indictment, however, which alleges negative matters,-that s, doctrines which Prof. Swing does not preach, -and every part of it which is based upon hear say or upon words spoken in private conversa tion-words, the real purport of which may be misunderstood or forgotten, and which are near always distorted by repetition, should be ex punged from the indictment not only as frivo lous (according to Dr. Swazey) but also as inquis itorial, impertinent, and ungentlemanly. If they are allowed to stand, the prosecution becomes persecution. If they are taken out, there is no reason why Prof. Patton should not go shead, and may the best man win.

CITY BUILDINGS. At the Council meeting on Monday evening Ald. Cannon offered a resolution providing for "a new deal" in the construction of the proposed Court-House. It contemplates the employment of a competent architect, which of ourse implies the rejection of all previous plans. If this proposition signifies a return to econom al views, it is highly commendable. There is o sense in spending from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 mainly for purposes of ostentation) on a city ouilding. We have enough private buildings to answer all the purposes of show, for at least wenty years to come. We have a greater number of gorgeous buildings than the City of Paris, and it is absurd and wicked to tax the community to erect another to outshine the world with. If we lack anything on that score, we can afford to let the United States Government supply the deficiency, as it is abundantly doing, on the new Custom-House.

We must have a new Court-House some time and the only objection to going on with it now is the embarrassment of the city finances and the hard times, rendering it impossible for the taxpayers to furnish the money. . The power of porrowing by issuing city bonds is exhausted, and that is a great piece of good fortune, since the power to expend money depends upon the ability and willingness of the taxpayers to furnish it, and not upon the facility with which bonds can be thrown on the market. This the indistment, which is stretched out to great fact necessitates the practice of a rigid economy, and suggests that the gorgeou plans so much admired before the occurflames, and that an architect be employed to draw plans for a serviceable building costing not more than $1,500,000. More than half of this sum can be obtained by the sale of the three blocks of ground on the Lake Shore, wanted by the railroads for a passenger depot, and a large portion of the remainder by the sale of the ground where the present city buildings stand. At all events, the necessity of resorting to taxaout being liable to the charge of seeking to prejnomical plan is adopted; and no other than an the business of the city authorities to prevent ing grace to the party which turned its back

President Lincoln, placing the vacancy at his disposal. Mr. Sumner showed the card to Mr. Lyon, remarking that this office would have realized the dream of his youth, but the breach be tween Mr. Chase and the President was daily growing wider, and the appointment of the former was the only thing that would close it. "No personal sacrifice is too great, nor can any thing tempt me to desert my post. The Repub lican party must remain intact until its mission the temptation. How the brave deed of the political Curtius, who flung the ambition of his lifinto the breach to save the party, was subsequently rewarded by the party, is a matter glowing history.

POOR RICHARDSON. The ex-Judge of Probate is having a hard time of it. Sneered at by everybody for his hopeless failures in everything except lawbreaking, he finally relapsed into [a do-nothing policy, which it was fervently hoped would be steadily maintained. The chorus of laughter over his $5 plan of specie payment had scarcely died away when the Sanborn investigation began. Richardson must regard Sanborn as a man orn of sin. His contract has played havoc with the already ragged reputation of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Richardson testified that he knew nothing about the contract. He had never heard of it. He signed it, indeed, but that was an act of routine. And so on and so on, until the Committee took pity on the man who was pleading dens gnorance of everything it behooved him to know, and mercifully dismissed him. Then came Sanborn. The Committee, by questionin him, went back, step by step, in the history of the transaction until they found in the centre of the mob of intrigue-Richardson. Why, yes, quoth Sanborn, Richardson had talked with him about the contract half-a-dozen times. They had fully discussed the subject. Then came Solicitor Banfield. He aided the mittee to tear away various disguises, under the last of which he found-Richardson. He had never done anything about the Sanborn contract, said Banfield, save by the advice of Richardson. And now comes ex-Congressn Kelsey, who drafted the clause of the Appro priation bill under which these contracts were made. He, it appears, conversed about it before its enactment with-Richardson. If the latter, after all this conversing and consulting and advising, was really as utterly ignorant as he preended to be, his mental incapacity for his place s very apparent. If the ignorance was but a pretense, his moral incapacity therefor is equally evident.

PARSONS AND GARPIPIN

The disclosures at Washington, in the Distric of Columbia investigation, involve two mem bers of Congress from Ohio, and it will requir some further explanation to satisfy the public that others have not shared in the plunder. The facts are these: In 1873, Mr. George R. Chitenden, of this city, made overtures to De Golyer & McClelland to obtain large paving contracts for them from the Board of Public Works of the District of Columbia, in considera tion of one-third of the profits. The agreement was made, and contracts were subsequently let to De Golyer & McClelland for laying 200,000 vards of wooden-block pavement at $3.50 a yard. Chittenden, after obtaining the contracts, remrned to Chicago and demanded $100,000. This claim he reduced to $97,000, which he received in cash and notes. Chittenden represented that the $97,000 was, in part, to pay expenses at Washington. Part of the agreement was that Chittenden was to stand between the contractors and the Board of Public Works in case of any trouble. They laid a considerable amount of the pavement, when it was reported in July 1873, to Gov. Shepherd, that like work with the same material in Chicago had proved a failure, and that, in fact, the "ironized" process was a discontinuance of work under the contracts with DeGolyer & McClelland. When the work was thus abruptly suspended the contractors had on hand material sufficient to complete 67,000 yards of pavement, which would prove to them a total loss. They urged the local Government to allow them to use up this material, but that was refused. As a last effort they induced Mr. Charles B. Farwell, of this city, to go to Washington, in September, 1873, just on the eve of the panic. He laid the case before Gov. Shepherd, who con sented that the contractors might go on and use no the material they had on hand.

The testimony of Mr. R. C. Parsons, the present member of Congress from Cleveland is to the effect that he was retained by Mr. George R. Chittenden to argue before the Board of Public Works the superiority of the DeGolver patent for wooden-block pavements. Before the Board made the final award he was called home to Cleveland, and engaged Gen. Garfield, at that time Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, to act in his place. This was about the adjournment of Congress in 1879. Subsequently, upon the award of the contracts, he received his fee from Chittenden and read Garfield. The books of DeGolyer & McClelland show that the $97,000 paid by them to Chittenden was thus recorded: George R. Chittenden, in notes, $72,000; "R. C. P." (Richard C. Parsons), $10,000 : "R. C. P." (Richard C. Parsons). $5,000; "S. W. B." (S. W. Brown), $10,000. The second payment to Parsons is supposed to be the fee paid to Gen. Garfield. The name of "S. W. Brown" is a fictitious one, and it will gets to Washington who that personage is. C. Parsons was at the time of this transaction remain with Mr. Chittenden to explain when he Dates are important in this case. Mr. Richard Marshal of the Supreme Court of the United States. According to the evidence, Gen. Garfield made his argument for the DeGolver contracts after the adjournment of Congress in June 1872, just after the Philadelphia Convention He was then Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, and in the succeeding winter a million of dollars was appropriated for paving streets in Washington City. Mr. Parsons was then a candidate for Con gress in Cleveland, and was duly elected in November, 1872, and, though he drew pay from March, 1873; did not take his seat until De ber last. He was not in fact a member of Cor gress when he rendered this service to DeGolyer; he was a candidate only, and went before the people with DeGolyer's $10,000 in his pocket and told the people that a party which had abolished slavery and carried on the War to a successful conclusion was undoubtedly able to carry on this Government. We have no idea what explanation Mr. Chienden will make, nor why he selected Mr. Parsons at the high figure of $5,000 to prove that the "tronized" wood was better than any other. Mr. Parsons had no particular shility or other. Mr. Parsons not a support of the state of the saultings.

an active man, having influential relations with the party in power, and it would pay to employ Mr. Parsons and thereby secure his influer particularly as other persons could not be em-ployed directly. That 'Mr. Chittenden acted wisely and discreetly in selecting Parsons is best shown in his success. His shrewdness will, perhaps, be further illustrated when it is made known who S. W. Brown is, and why it was necessary to pay him $10,000.

The case against Gen. Garfield is dark. Whatever smirching he may have sustained in the Credit Mobilier was trivial compared with this. Appearing before the District officers arguing that they should give the contract for paving to one firm which was to pay him $5,000, to the exclusion of other firms which were to pay him nothing! Appearing thus as counsel for a contractor when he was Chairman of the Committee which was to grant or withhold any appropria tion by Congress for paving at all. Mr. Parson escapes legal responsibility because he was not at the time a member of Congress. Neverth less, taking a town-meeting view of his case, it is clear that Mr. Chittenden, in employing Parsons, thought he was hiring something else than his knowledge of "ironized" wood.

THE IRON STRIKES.

At the time of the panic, the wages of iron workers were cut down about 25 per cent. The men now demand the old rates of pay. The masters refuse. The men are therefore on a strike. The refusal is probably a just one. The check given by the panie to railroad-building has greatly lessened the country's consumption of iron. The long debates in Congress have unsettled all sorts of business, and the general expectation of currency inflation will but carry on the process the debates began. Just or unjust, however, the refusal has been made. Some 20, 000 men are now on a strike. On Monday, 630 Pennsylvania furnaces were out of blast. number increases daily. It is predicted that the 1st of June will see every furnace in the State idle. The quarrel seems to be between all the employes on the one hand, and the National Iron Puddlers' Union on the other. The employers can probably well afford to stop work for some time to come. The Union claims to have a full treasury and a membership of 60,000 to fall back upon when th funds on hand are exhausted. There seems to be no thought of arbitration between the oppos ing interests. Yet Mr. Mundella's Boards of Arbitration have succeeded in settling trade disputes, in England, not only in cotton but in iron mills, and in mines besides. There is one gleam of good sense in the story of the strike. The workingmen of the Reading district are agitating the establishment of a co-op erative iron-mill. Should such a thing be started, its cost would probably no equal half the amount its workingmen-owner would waste by living in idleness for weeks This strike is of importance to the whole com munity. It will, if prolonged, increase the price of iron everywhere, and so diminish its use. It has been said that the civilization of a country varies with its demand for this metal. It enters in greater or less degree, into almost every pro cess of civilized life. To make matters worse, 5,000 Pennsylvania miners have left work, and there are fears that the Miners' National Union will soon order a general strike, Moreover, the English iron-manufacturers-or a number of them-have locked-out their employes in retaliation for an attempted strike. The effects of this stoppage of production are just beginning to be felt here, especially in the tin-trade. The market has been steadily falling, but prices are railying again under the influence of a reduced that strikes are more frequent and extended and of greater duration, year after year. Workingmen seem to be intoxicated by their latelydiscovered power of combination. They rarely use it aright. A strike generally costs the men that the laborers lost, in wages, $6,765,000 of the $7,850,000 wasted in eight English strikes from 1859 to 1861. A strike implants in many men habits of indolence that are fatal to their efficiency thereafter. It is apt, moreover, to drive capital from a trade, and so to diminish the demand for labor. Nevertheless, in the face of these facts, to which intelligent workingmen cannot be wholly blind, strikes continue. The fact shows that the propert relations between masters and men are radically wrong. A trouble that requires such desperate remedies must be desperate itself. Paying by the piece, and on a scale that slides up and down with the market-price of the prodnot as they do in the tron-districts now is a quasi acknowledgment that an employe should share in the employer's profits. Let the iron manufacturers make that acknowledgment plain er and more practical. Let them take their workmen into partnership. They can issue stock to them or they can promise them half the surplus profit above a fixed percentage. In either way, they would remove the chief ground of complaint, which is that the masters make enormous fortunes while the men must live from hand to mouth. So long as this state of things exists, so long will there be trouble. It would be worth the masters' while to share their profits with the men. The expenditure of a few dollars in this way would establish relations of cordiality which would make the settlement of disputes comparatively easy. Strikes would be almost un-known, for strikers would lose not only their wages but their dividends on profits. Now the masters hire the men's muscle. Then they would get muscle, mind, and good-will. A remedy like this would, we venture to think, be better than the one suggested by the masters a short time since,—a higher tariff on iron!

The view of this matter which we hen presented has not been successfully gainthen presented has not been successfully gain-sayed. Mr. McCormick and Mr. John Forsythe, though not members of the Presbytery, are represented to us as having been most assiduous in their attendance upon its meetings, and most active in their labors to keep that body straight, and to prepare it for visiting exemplary and swful puishment upon the distinguished Sabellian and Soteriological heretic who is now arraigned at its bar. Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune CINCINNATI, O., April 14 .- A public in was held in Pike's Opera-House to-night, to give expression on the subject of inflation. The platform was crowded by prominent bankers, manufacturers, and business-men, and the body of the house was filled with the most intelligent people in the community. Speeches were made in which the absurdity of inflating the currency was prominently and forcibly exhorted. Judge Stallo was particularly felicitious in this direc-tion, and when he said that there was just as much sense in talking about a elastic yard-stick or an elastic bushel measure as an elastic currency, his remark was received with thunders of applanse. A speech by Richard Smith, editor of the Gazette, and entirely consistent with his well-known conservative views on the subject of finance, was well received. The fact that the meeting was presided over by George F. Davis, Ead, an Ex-PRESIDENT OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, and one of the prominent pork-packers of this city, and that there was a list of 100 Vice-Presidents selected from all branches of business, embracing bankers, manufacturers, merchants, tradesmen, clerks, capitalists; and also the Tacithat the meeting was unexpectedly large, is a wholesome assurance that there is a strong conservative faciling in this community scaling. assurance that there is a stronger as a stronger as

The House was yesterday resolved into the committee of the whole to consider Mills' resolution respecting the constitution of the Canadian Senate. The main features of Mills' scheme are that Provisional Legislatures should elect Senators; each member having one vote, thus granting representation to minorities as well as to majorities. Others advocated the selection by a popular vote in districts requiring, residence in such districts as a qualification. Others doubted the ability of the Senate at all, while but a few favored that body being nominated instead of elected. The Committee rose and will sit again.

THE MARQUETTE & MACKINAW ROAD. According to recent surveys, the proposed Marquette & Mackinaw Railroad will be 150 miles in length. The line is to connect Marquette with the most accessible harbor on the Straits of Mackinaw, at which point junction was to be effected with two lines from Central Michigan—the Jackson, Lansing & Saginav and the Grand Rapids & Indians Boad. Th Michigan—the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw, and the Grand Rapids & Indiana Road. The project is intended to divert the Lake Superior trade to Detroit by a route entirely within Michigan territory. The prospect of Chicago reaping all the advantage of this trade was not pleasing to the Michigan people. Besides, the residents of the Upper Peninsula were so cut off from Lansing and Detroit, that ideas of secession were freely expressed. To suppress these, mollify the people and recover the lost ground. ten sections of State swamp lands per mile were offered by the Legislature to any responsible parties who would undertake the construction of a railroad from Marquette to Mackinaw within a year. Mr. W. L. Wetmore, of Marquette, formed a company and got the contract, but failed to get the necessary funds. At its recent seasion, the Legislature extended the time for the completion of the road until Dec. 31, 1877.

For the first forty miles east from Marquette the typography of the line is not favorable. There are no natural valleys in the direction of the route. The dividing ridge between the two lakes—Superior and Michigan—attains an elevation of 500 feet above Lake Superior, and the streams run toward either lake, so that numerous bridges would be a feet to the mile. The timber along this portion of the route is heavy and well adapted for making charcoal. For the remainder of the line, the grades are easy. It penetrates considerable swam; that offers little inducement to the settler. The timbered land, however, show excellent soil, and would doubtless soon be taken.

WALL STREET.

Vagaries of the Rumor-Mongare New York, April 14.—Rumor-mongers of Wall street made to-day an article which we published recently in a Washington newspaper elaborated to the extent of columns, why the United States should recognize the Cubans as beiligerents, do duty as a semi-official announcement that the Government intended to recognize their beiligerency, and hence there would be trouble with Spain. As, in the event of such trouble, the ships of the Pacific Mail Company would be liable to danger, the stock dropped from 4734 to 465%.

THE NEXT STORY OF IMPORTANCE on the street was to the effect that the Benats Currency bill, which was supposed to be intended to create inflation, was, in realist, a contraction bill, and that the effect provided for in one section would be to contract $45,000,000 against an issue of $18,000,000 provided for in a previous section. This theory was based upon the interpretation of the alleged contraction clause which provides that of three-fifths of the reserve heretofor allowed to be used at redeeming points, only one-fourth shall remain, and on this latter amount so interest shall be paid; that the balance of the reserve, thus taking this amount out of direculation. Foster, of Whiteside, Secretary, Garden, of the Computation of the Computat side, and Joseph Burdett, of Peoria, members of the Executive Committee. The Master stated THE OBJECT OF THE MEETING s follows: There were now nearly 1,400 granges in Illinois, and as 1,600 might be expected at the December annual meeting, it became necessary to reduce the representatives to counties. Some change, therefore, seemed necessary in the Constitution of the National grange. The object of a special meeting at this time was to adopt or reject the proposed amendments to the Constitution of the National Grange. Many of them proposed radical changes in the Order. When adopted by two-thirds of the State Granges they would be the law under which all subsequent National and State Granges would assemble.

Bardett, Vancourt, and Clarke were appointed a Committee on Credentials, and reported seventy counties entitled to representation. The sections calling for a reduction of representatives, and the establishment of County or District Granges, were adopted.

The provision to make O. H. Kelley and others life-members of the Order was rejected, and all its other amendments were adopted, as follows:

He was charged $9.40 for ten barrels of sweetpotatoes from here to St. Louis, a distance of 100 miles only. The Atlantic & Pacific Road charged $3.25 for transporting the same a distance of 160 miles. The declaration in the case brought in this county against this road will probably be amended by a count setting out this charge.

OBITUARY.

New York, April 14.—James Bogardus, the American scientist and inventor, died yesterday in this city, aged 74 years.

James Bogardus was one of the most celebrated of American mechanicians. In his youth he was a watchmaker's apprentice, and in this position doveloped great facility of mechanical execution and some boldness in original designing. He invented a three-wheel chronometer clock, to run eight days, and a variation of this with some peculiar features. He also invented the "ring five," for cotton-spinning, the eccentric mill, and several new and valuable engraving makines. A dry gas meter was among his most famous works; it brought him the gold medal from the American Institute in 1836. In 1839 he received a reward from the English Government for a plan of manufacturing postage stamps. His triumph in this instance was signal, as there were 2,600 competitors. Mr. Bogardus returned to New York in 1840. His subsequent inventions were a machine for pressing glass; another for shining india rubber fabrics, and for cutting india-rubber in fine threads; an improved drilling machine; and a planetary horse-power and dynamometer for measuring the speed and power of machinery. In 1847 he constructed in New York the first building entirely of iron that was ever erected in this country. Mr. Bogardus' fame is of necessity ephemeral. His works have already been appropriated by the public, while his name is familiar only to specialists and persons of macure years.

Correspondence of The Chicago Tribane.

Fittsburgh, Pa., April 14.—Col. William Philips, President of the Allegheny Valley Railmod, and known as one of our most publicabilities of paralysis of the brain, in his 60th rest. Col. Phillips was a member of the Council, which holds a special meeting to-morrow. The Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, at its manalmeeting to-day, passed appropriate recontions to his memory. He was a man of pecunic talants, and whose loss cannot help but prove a calamity to this city, with whose every foat public enterprise and improvement he ras always identified. He was a backelor, and saves property estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

last night that one of the inmates of the Blind titute was burned, unfortunately proves to be true. Henry Wilson, a blind man from Beloit, who was subject to attacks of epilepsy, and who had been in the institution for some time for the purpose of learning the art of making brooms, was the unfortunate. He had returned to the institution the day previous from a visit to his friends in the country. On account of delicate health, he was excused from some of the rules and duties enjoined on the other pu-pils. His room was situated near the southeast corner of the west transverse wing, and near where the fire originated.

When the class-readings commenced, which were in progress at the time the fire was discovered, he was excused and went to his room. SUPERINTENDENT LITTLE ATTEMPTS TO RESCUE HIM.

Superintendent Little received his injuries in his desperate efforts to reach this man's room, and the fire drove him back only when it became and the first drove him back only when it became evident that he must abandon the effort or lose his life. It is thought that under the excite-ment of the first alarm an attack of epilepsy was induced which rendered Nelson helpless un-til it was too late to effect his escape from the building. CAUSE OF THE FIRE.

CAUSE OF THE FIRE.

In regard to the cause of the fire, Supt. Little says that at half-past 5 o'clock the house was cold, and he went down and found no steam on. A fire was started up at once, the chip cuttings from the broom-abop being used for the purpose of quickening steam, and it is supposed that sparks from this light material were carried out of the top of the chimney. At the time a strong wind was blowing from the southwest in the general direction of, and in range with, a line drawn from the summit of the chimney and elevator to the cupols on the main building, and it is supposed that this addy in the aircurrent on the summit of the building carried sparks from the chimney through the slats into the upper part of the ventilator, and lodged them in the wood-work. By the constant current of wind of the elevator, these sparks were fanned into a flame which gradually worked down the ventilator, and thus communicated were fanned into a flame which gradually worked down the ventilator, and thus communicated with the interior of the building. This is the only hypothesis which can possibly account for the fire. There was no other fire in that part of the building and never had been, and, so far as is known, no other means by which the fire could have originated.

THE LOSS.

The books and records were all saved, but both teachers and pupils lose all their clothing, etc. Experienced builders state that the walls of the south front and of both ends are uninjured, and that the north walls to the second story will not need to be taken down. The boilers and other appliances in the basement are said to be per-that the north walls to the second story will not need to be taken down. The boilers and other appliances in the basement are said to be perfect. The foundations and basement cost from $15,000 to $20,000, and the shope cost $12,000. It is believed that $70,000, with the present decreased cost of material and labor, will replace the building and furniture in a better condition than it was before the fire.

TEMPORARY QUARTERS TO RE ERECTED.

We understand that the Board of Trustees contemplate renting temporary quarters in the city for the board and accommodation of the pupils, and that the school will be continued with scarcely an interruption.

PROPOSITION TO REBUILD.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—The Governor and other State officers here held a council this afternoon as to the best course to pursue in regard to the care of the unfortunates left homeless by the burning of the Institute for the Blind at Janesville; as to what was best to be done in regard to the reconstruction of the building, two courses were suggested; one to call an extra session of the Legislature to make the necessary provision, which would involve some expense, the other to take the responsibility, as the Republicans did when part of the State Prison burned, of doing what needed to be done in the emergency, and relying on the Legislature to ratify the action. A consultation will be held with officers of the Institute before any definite action is taken, probably to-morrow. There is ample room for the temporary accommodation of the pupils of the Blind Institute in the Soldiers' Orphans' Home here, which has only 65 inmates now, and where the blind children could be made comfortable, and their school go on without delay.

At Detroit.

Special Dispatch to The Chicage Tribuna.

Detroit, Mich., April 14.—A fire broke out last night in the factory of the Detroit Burial Case Company, located amid a large number of frame dwellings. The factory was soon destroyed, and many houses in the neighborhood caught fire. A general conflagration was only prevented by the greatest efforts. Intense excitement prevailed and the whole Fire Department was called out. Help was asked from Windsor, and houses for several blocks about were largely emptied of their furniture by the alarmed occupants. Three gmail wooden buildings, four blocks off on Jefferson avenue, caught fire and were badly burned, and three small buildings near the factory were also destroyed by falling walls. The total loss of the Burial Case Company is estimated at $63,000; insured for $20,000. Total loss besides this, about $3,000, on which there is little or no insurance.

At Kelema, Ark.

Memphis, Tenn., April 14.—The Appeal's Helena (Ark.) special says: "A fire on Monday night destroyed the grocery store of Morseman, Seeley's dry-goods store, G. W. Haiebaugh's tin-ware shop, and John Kear's saddlery shop. The loss is not ascertained. Moore was insured for $34,000, and Seeley $11,000 in New Orleans, Philadelphia, and Newport, Ky.

Western Municipal Elections.

Western Municipal Elections.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

SPRINGFIELD, ILI.

ILI., April 14.—The municipal election here to-day called out a full vote. There were three tickets in the field—the Law-and-Order, Lepublican, and Democratic tickets. The vote is so mixed that the exact result will not be known to-night. The Democrats have, however, carried the city. Their candidate for Mayor is a Law-and-Order man. The Council is probably Republican, though some of the Aldermen are still in doubt. The Law-and-Order candidate for Treasurer, Mr. Edwards, is running up very well, and it is thought by some that he may be elected. Mayor Hay issued a proclamation closing the saloons, and the utmost quiet has prevailed all day.

I did Mayor Hay an unintentional injustice by stating in these dispatches that the whisky element of the Democratic Porty was cleaned out at the Democratic Nominating Convention. Mr. Hay's name was used by that element without authority as their candidate for Mayor before the Convention. He had distinctly refused to be a candidate for re-election. Had he desired a renomination, it is believed it would have been given him.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribuns.
ALTON, Ill., April 14.—Election returns for County Judge are all in from the twenty-one precincts which give John G. Irwin, Republican, I majority over M. G. Dale, the next highest candidate. Last evening it looked very favorable for A. H. Gambrill, but he fell far behind in the rural districts, the Grangers voting for Irwin and Dale. There were three candidates, one Republican and two Democrats, in the field, and the election was very warmly contested by them and their friends. A very large vote was polled in the county, and, there only being 1 majority for Irwin, a contest is already-talked of.

CRIME.

Fatal Shooting Affray at Louisville. Louisville, Ky., April 14.—About 11 o'clock this morning, W. R. Abbott, a prominent lawyer of this city, was shot, and, it is supposed, mortally wounded, by John R. Green, a member of the firm of Morton, Galt & Co., bankers. A case had just been argued in court in which both parties were engaged, and in coming out of the Court House some words passed between them. The lie was given, and Abbott struck G. with a cane. The latter drew a pistol and fired three times, the shots taking effect in Abbott's right side, in the centre breast, and through the shoulders, ranging obliquely inward. There are various statements as to who struck the first blow. Green was arrested and placed in jail, and Abbott taken home, where he is now lying in a very critical condition. The affair created a profound sensation in this community, where both parties Fatal Shooting Aftray at Louisville sensation in this community, where both parties were widely known and respected.

Lynching Case at Corinne, Utah. Lynching Case at Corinne, Utah.

Corinne, Utah, April 14.—The Chinaman arrested on Monday, the 6th inst., on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder of Bornstein, which occurred on the 5th, was yesterday proven beyond all doubt to have committed the deed unaided and alone. At 2 o'clock this afternoon, while the officers were endeavoring to take the prisoner to Brigham City for safe-keeping, the citizens en masse took him from the Marshal down to the railroad-bridge, one mile east of town, and hanged him from the trestle-work. Thayer, detective and Chinese interpreter, called from Denver especially to work the case up, brought about this end with great credit to himself and the community. Public wrath is appeased, quietness prevails again, and the people are happy to feel they have rid the city of a murderer who has killed two or three men before, and is now known to have been one of the worst Chinese characters in this country. worst Chinese characters in this country.

Shot in a Ragnic.

MENTHIS, Tenn., April 14.—B. F. Johnson, a telegraph operator at Brownsville, Teun., was shot and fatally wounded on Sunday night, in a bagnic at that place, by Sam Oldham, a class-leader in the Methodist Church there, who, being caught in the bagnic by Johnson, shot him to prevent exposure. Oldham fled, and at last accounts had not been captured.

A Missouri Editor Demands Satisfaction of One O'Toole.
Sr. Joseph, Mo., April 14.—Capt. W. D. O'Toole, latterly attorney, met T. Brooks, editor of the Gazetle, on the street yesterday and denounced him as a contemptible scallawag and dirty pup. Brooks did not resent the epithets at the time, but this morning sent a letter to O'Toole, in which he says, after reflection, he has concluded that the insult was such as no gentleman should rest under, and asks the usual satisfaction in such cases. The challenged party has prepared a reply, in which he demands that Brooks shall furnish a certificate from respectable persons as to his claims to the character of a gentleman. The affair has created quite a flurry of excitement, and what the end will be none can yet tell. Missouri Editor Demands Satisfacnam, will come out to-day for the first time this season.

—The prop George Dunbar left this port yesterday for the first time this season. She has gone to the Michigan abore for lumber.

—The delagates who were appointed by the Chicago Vessel-Uwners' Association to attend the Detroit Bridge Conventica, which assembles to-day, left for Detroit last evening. The delegation consisted of the following gentlemen: Capt. G. C. Finney, Capt. C. J. Magril, Capt. W. M. Egan, and Capt. John Long. Cout. John Frindiville, who was also appointed a delegate, was unable to go on account of sickness in his lumity. Ex-City Attorney Stiles accompanies them to be their spokesman. New York Dry-Goods Market.

New York, April 14.—The trade movement was more active with commission houses, and the near-by jobining trade some improvement. The market for options more easily a first hands; desired to the property of the p side that harbor and was towed back in a sinking condition.

The harbor of Buffalo is again blocked with ice, and there is less prospect of an opening there then there was several weeks ago.

The prop Milwaukee arrived at Port Dalhousic yesterday morning, bringing the crew and yawl of the sch_Mateor, of Oakville. The Mateor was found in a sinking condition, and after being towed 3 miles by the Milwaukee sunk 5 miles from Oswego.

The sturr Champiain, of the Northern Transportation Company's Line, arrived at Cleveland from Ogdensburg Saturday morning, being the first boat through from Lake Ontarie this season. She will probably be one of the first boats that will reach Chicago from below.

The Bay Cliy Okronicle states that Capt, Leitz, of Detroit, returned Sunday night to Bay Cliy from his journey to the North, where he had been with a party of twenty-eight men getting out ice for Southern points. He has shipped a large quantity, also built ice-houses, and stored a considerable amount at the lake, the locality of which he declined to give, as he claims to have discovered a place so completely hidden by trees as to prevent the sun from penetrating and melting the ice, which is said to be as good now as any time during the winter.

It is learned from J. L. Wickes, of East Tawas, that the ice crop is being gathered at that place to a very large extent. Not less than seven vessels are there localing with ice, which is cut from the inside of the booms and put directly on board the vessels. The work at Otsego Lake is also prosecuted vigorously, and but for the severe cold would have been much further advanced than it is. The business is reported to be very remumerative.

—Mesers. J. D. Davis & Co. have accepted the agency of Ward's Lake Superior line of boats at Cleveland, and will occupy the dock and warehouse foot of St. Clair street. The line consists of ten boats, which will run through to Duluth. The following have already been designated: City of Duluth (new), Keweenaw, St. Faul, City of Fremont, Anna Craig, Jarvis Lord, Phil Sheridan. In addition three steamers have been chartered.

—The steamship Spartan, built at the yard of Messrs. Thomas Quayle & Sons, at Cleveland, was launched Saturday afternoon. This vessel was built for the Cleveland Transportation Company, and is designed for the Lake Superior iron-ore trade. The general build and imensions of this new craft are as follows: Length of keel, 200 feet; length over all, 215 feet; breadth of beam, 34 feet; depth of hold, 18 feet. Her consort is now building at Black River by Messrs. Queles & Peck, and will soon be ready for launching.

—Three new vessels are on the stocks at Baily Brothers' yard, at Toledo. The first is 143 feet long, 26 feet beam, and 11½ feet depth of hold. She is a full-staced cansler, and will be used in the grain trade. They will commence putting in her spars Monday, and expect to launch her in two weeks. She is owned and will cost when finished about 225,000. The second one is to be in the grain trade also. She is 125 feet long, 26 feet beam, and 10 feet depth of hold. She will cost when injunched, about the 1st of May, not far from $17,000, and is owned and will be commanded by Capt. Lutt. The third is larger than either of the others, being 200 feet long, 36 beam, and 14½ feet depth of hold. She will cost when finished about $25,000. The second one is to be in the grain trade also. She is $25 feet long, 36 feet beam, and 10 feet depth of hold. She will cost when finished about $25,000 Greet of the others, being 200 feet long, 36 beam, and 14½ feet depth of hold. She wil

TAXATION OF BANK SHARES.

The decision of the United States Supreme urt making the shares of National Banks taxles at the place where the bank is located, hour reference to the place of the owner's micil, is a surprise. The hitherto acpited rule has been that the stus of ares in an incorporated company, for purposes taxation, is at the residence of the sharehold-like other personal property. The full text the decision has not been published yet, and will be necessary to wait for it before the pubcan understand bow far it will cover the case win controversy, involving the taxation of pital stock of railroads in Illinois. The two ses are not exactly parallel, but they have ough points in common to make the present resision an object matter of considerable inter-

This sasure has been generally underbod to be one of inflation. It increases the led-tender circulation by $44,000,000. At the me time, as will be seen from Comptroller and a will be seen from Comptroller and the National Banks must keep in their sits bomplished by the clause which pids any of the banks to keep one than one-fourth of their reserves the shape of balances with their redeeming encies. Hitherto the country banks have en permitted to keep 60 per cent, and he his in other redemption cities then New York ermitted to keep 60 per cent, and he in other redemption cities than New York cent, of their reserves as balances with redeeming agents. REAL ESTATE.

Real estate is dell. Some heavy transactions are reported in negotiation, but few transfers of importance are made public. Reuts of a moderstores are going slowly. The principal applications for loans on real estate are for small amounts, running from $1,000 to $5,000. Borrowers at these figures offering good security are accommodated at 10 per cent; 9 per cent is taken for larger loans. Very little, if anything, has been done at any easier rates. Builders report operations as a rule to be rather restricted. As one of the exceptions may be mentioned the handsome extension of half-a-dozen fine residences which Mr. Follansbee is adding to his block on Wabash avenue at Twenty-sixth street. South of Twenty-second street, on the same avenue, a number of valuable dwelling-houses are in course of erection.

THE R. 4. C. ROMT OF WAY.

Several representatives of the Baltimora & Ohio Railroad are now in the city on business connected with the entry of the road into Chicago. It is believed to be their intention to settle this week upon some one of the different ways into the city which have been inder consideration so long, and which have been several times discussed in our columns. They were in consultation yesterday with a number of owners of property in the Towns of Hyde Park and South Chicago, and went to view the various routes in contemplation, but have not made any decision as yet.

CITY SEWERAGE.

The Board of Public Works intend to push with vigor the system of sowerage that the health and the development of the city so much need. Before deciding upon the recommendations they will make to the Council on this subject, they will, in the course of a week, hold a conference with the Board of Health. The object of consultation will be to decide in what directions to extend the sewerage with the highest regard to sanitary considerations. The Board will probably ask the Council for the appropriation of the entire amount allowed them by law for sewerage.

now characterizes the movement in staple and seasonable fabrica, and prices of many lines show a hardening tendency. Groceries were in fairly active demand, and were held firmly, with the single exception of coffees. That stable is still lacking in strength, and in mild grades a further reduction was to-day established. Sugars were active and strong, and sirups, molasses, rice, tess, and most side goods as well, were firm at the quotations. No new features were noted in connection with the butter market. Business continues dull, and prices are steadily working downward. There is as yet no very considerable accumulation of stocks, but holders apparently have no confidence in the permanence of present prices, and all seem anxious to realize as speedily as possible. Canned goods and fish were in fair request at about steady prices. No changes were noticed in the market for coal, pig iron, and paints. Dried fruits were in better request, and were rather firmer than yesterday. Blackberries advanced lo, with which exception there were no quotable changes. The leather trade was quiet at firm prices. Oils were moving with some freedom, and for carbon, lard, linused, and most other descriptions the market presented a firmer tone. Turpentine was weak, and declined lc, or to 54@55c, where it may be considered weak. There was no special change in lumber. At the yards the usual number of orders from the interior were received and placed at current prices. At the docks there was little to do. The market was nearly cleared yesterday, and the receipts to-day were very light. Metals, nails, and hardware were reported fairly active. The only change was in the prices for nails, which are now sold at $4.00@4.12½. The demand for steel and iron was fair in the aggregate at the rates previously quoted. Drugs and chemicals were in good demand and steady, many articles, among them shelliac and opium, ruling firm, the latter at an advance of 26c per lb. The wool and broom corn markets were without special change. The former staple is se meet the orders. Sales were reported of 150 bris at 94c per gallon.

Lake freights were dull and nominally easier, at not more than 55c for wheat and 5c for corn by sail to Buffalo. For wheat to Kingston 10c was the best bid. Shippers can now send their grain forward by rail to New York at the rate, nominally, of 40c per 100 bis, or 24c per bu on wheat, and there are rumors of considerable reductions from this rate. While this continues there are scarcely be much strength in lake freights, and probably little doing, except to Canada, as the rail is so much more expeditious than the water route.

Under these circumstances it is not improbable that a good many vessels will be loaded with grain on owner's account, as there is more prospect of profit in the operation than in waiting for bids from shippers who do not seem to want freight room, even at present rates.

There is no news from the Straits of Mackinaw to-day, up to the date of this writing. The mercury stood above the freezing point at Alpena and Marquette early this morning, which was probably succeeded by warm weather to-day. Port Colborne is reported clear of ice, and a vessel with wheat from Toledo passed through the Welland Canal yesterday.

Provisions were quiet, with little change in prices. Meas pork was dull and a shade casier, there being searcely any demand. The recent excitment led to a general settlement, and those who are outside the deal do not care about dipping into it again just yet, while the owners of the property cas exarcely hope to get rich by swapping. Lard was in fair demand, and 2½-65-6 per 100 fis higher, under news of further strength in Liverpool, with a few orders for shipment. Meats were in very good request one sport account but very little was done, as buyers and sellers could not agree. More of the orders were seemed to be limited to a point below the figures which were stornly insisted unon by holders. Hence little trading; but there is reason to believe that several sales have been made to rivately within the past two or three days, and some such may have been made to-day. The market closed quiet at the following range of prices. Counter Statements.

Sunken Vessel.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The statements made by persons on board of the steamships Europe and Greece conflict very much. None doubt that of Capt. Lemaire, that he believed his ship to be in a sinking condition, or speak other-rise than in the highest terms of the discipline exercised on board of the Europe when her condition was made known to the passengers, but Capt. Lemaire makes statements in regard to the officers of the Greece which are emphatically depied. On the other hand, the statement is made by the Chief-Engineer of the Greece, that at the time he boarded the Europe, after her abandonment, her fires were not put out by water, but that had the crew remained at their posts no difficulty would have been experienced to keeping the water under, and safely sontinuing the voyage.

OAPT-LEMAIRE, of the Europe, has published a letter, in which he says: "The Second Officer of the English vessel, making his last trip, came on board and longer of the Greece, to go on board of his vessel, and confer with him, stating that my vessel will be watched until morning, promising formally before my officers, to put me-back on boar of my vessel if nothing happened during the q pht to prevent my returning. On reaching; the Greece, I saw the Captain, and it was deduct that, to ascertain for certain dreece, I saw the Captain, and it was deeled that, to ascertain for certain THE GRAVITY OF THE LEAKAGE, a boat should be sent with my Second Officer and the Chief-Engineer of the Greece, who weald make a thorough examination. They came back, reporting 7 feet of water everywhere. Afterwards, I made, with Capt. Thomas, a verbal contract, that two of my officers heard perfectly, by which I should go back to my ship at daybreak, to examine the progress of the leakage, transfer some provisions and baggage, and afterwards adopt a formal determination by an assembled council, and abandon the Europe, if necessary, or attempt to bring her under sail to the nearest port, if it were possible. In the morning, when the boat was ready to be sent off, I prepared to embark, but was

In the morning, when the boat was ready to be sent off, I prepared to embark, but was ready to the sent off, I prepared to embark, but was reput to the Creece came back, declaring that the water had gained 2 feet. Later on, another boat, commanded by the First Officer of the Greece, left to take possession of my steamer as a derelict vessel, and in so doing violated all the laws of honor and honest dealing. A second was sent out, and with like result, and I had the same kind of reception. I appealed to Capt. Thomas, who was surrounded by some of his officers, and told him that I protested against his act, and said that it was a piece of bad faith. He replied that the First Officer of the Greece was going to take my steamer to England. I solemnly protested. I was helpless and without power, and was a prisoner with all my officers and men. I had, therefore, but the last resource left me to prevent the meeting to which exasperation had driven my crew to the verge, to avoid the this inevitable collision and certain bloodshed. I SUFFERIED THE LAST HUMILIATION, but I say boldly, in my defense, that I acted with humanitarian views to save the human beings entrusted to my care, and that in this I acted without no other motive and with all the consciousness of right of an honest man. I add, in justice, that, with the exception of the beforementioned outrages, myself, my crew, and officers were treated with urbanity on board the Greece."

akes, in substance, the same statement as the aptain, and says that he was a witness to the comise made to Capt. Lemaire, that he should allowed to return to his vessel next day, and the violent manner in which he was pushed tok when attempting to visit his ship. He so says that he himself was prevented from enring another boat to get on board of the Eupe to examine the condition of affairs. He gards the whole proceedings as a conspiracy prevent the crew of the French vessel from thing back to her.

has been issued:

The amunal meeting of the Michigan State Woman-buffrage Association will be held in Lauring, at Representative Hall, on Wednesday, May 6, 1874, at 2 p. m. At its late attra sension, the Legislature passed a joint resolution submitting the question of fermals suffrage to the electors of the State at the time of the general section this fall. This action of the Legislature devices upon us an important duty at this meeting. We ought, if possible, to organize all our forces throughout the State, so that our strength may be made effectual for the accomplishment of the purposes of our organization. To this end, the State bloods de canvassed by working speakers, so that the people may be educated, and our friends induced to work for the cause through the campaign, and work

SAMANA.

The Victimized Company to Appeal to the United States Government.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

New York, April 14.—The Directors of the Samana Bay Company held a long meeting this afternoon to consider the action of the Dominican Government in annulling their lease and dispossessing them of what they look upon as their property. The meeting was strictly secret, but when it was over the Directors sent out to representatives of the press a document as the but when it was over the Directors sent out to representatives of the press a document as the result of their deliberations. This paper sets forth that the Company will appeal to the Government of Washington to be reinstated in its position at Samana. According to this paper the Company has received no revenues for an entire year, although they had paid in advance rent to the amount of $15,000. The Company will demand from the present flowerment of San Domingo indemnity for darkage done by the declaration in its manifesto that the lease of Samana was an illegal and arbitrary act of ex-President Bacz, whereas, according to the Company, it was the unanimous act of the people of the island.

Early yesterday morning, during the progress of a dance at the saloon of S. Aykroid, No. 39 West Adams street, Francis McGuirk and the west Adams street, Francis network and the proprietor of the saloon got into a fight, during which Aykroid was stabbed twice by McGuirk, receiving serious injuries. McGuirk was arrested and locked up in the Madison Street Station by Officer Millure, and a physician called to attend Aykroid, whom he pronounced dangerously though not fatally hurt.

"Denny" Simmons yesterday arrested Martin Lopez at the corner of Clark and Lake streets. Lopez, besides being a proficient sneak-thief, delights in representing himself as a detective. His plan of operations is, when he reads or hears of a big robbery, to go to the party who is robbed, and represent that he is a private detective and can restore the stolen goods for a certain consideration, but he invariably wants a small sum advanced as a proof of good faith, etc. In nine cases out of ten the money is given him, and that is the last seen of Mr. Lopez. In this manner he obtained $85 from Mr. Gustav Mendelson, promising to restore to him his laces. Several complaints have reached the detectives of Lopez and his misdeeds, but it was not until yesterday that he fell into any of the officers' hands. It is to be hoped that he will now get his just deserts. Mr. Mendelson says he will prosecute him for the general good.

The other humorous, pathetic, and religious selections helped to complete a programme which rounded out an evening's entertainment from which the audience went away apparently in the greatest good humor with themselves and their entertainers.

This afternoon and to-night the troupe will give their last concerts in this eity, and those who have not heard them and fail to attend one or the other of the concerts will have reason to regret their loss, as it will be long before a vocai organization as perfect in its drill and fresh in its voices will appear here again. The following are the programmes for the afternoon and evening:

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH CONCERT.

A vocal and instrumental concert was given last evening in the First Baptist Church, by Mr. C. A. Havens, the organist of that church, with the co-operation of several ladies and gentlemen, most of whom are connected with the First Baptist Society. The programme was a very full one, and rather more than usually varied. Its principal numbers were compositions or arrangements by Mr. Havens, including a superb fantasic on themes from Faust, the Pilgrim's Chant, from "Tannhauser," and his offertoire in B minor, Mr. Silas G. Pratt gave Chopin's fantasic in C sharp minor, and his own descriptive fantasic, "Dream Wanderings," and the church choir rendered several vocal pieces very effectively. The effort of Miss Evaria was rewarded with a double encore.

Miss Evarts was rewarded with a double encore.

The sale of seats for the symphony concert to be given by Mr. S. C. Pratt, at McCormick's Hall, on Friday evening, began yesterday morning at the bookstore of Mesers W.B. Keen, Cooke & Co., and is meeting with a success which indicates that there will be a large attendance to hear the new symphony. An excursion party from Johet is also coming in, and there will be an extra car provided to accommodate a party from Evanston.

COMPLIMENTARY CONCERT.

Frank T. Baird, the organist of the Third Presbyterian Church, has been tendered a complimentary concert by the members of the Society, to take place April 28. Mr. Baird will be assisted on that occasion by the following well-known musicians: Mme. Eugenie de Roode Rice, Mr. O. L. Fox. Mrs. Balfour, Miss Glenn, Mesars. Howard, Sloan, and others.

declamation of the pregnant lines, carried away by the electric influence of voice and action, until her fall upon the floor scenned a shocking resity. The last act still forced the tension. The actress fully realized the situation of Shakspare's desperate, frenzied, broken-hearted heroine, and the last scene which closed the tragedy was among the finest representations that an audience ever applauded. Mr. O'Nell, whose Romeo had on previews occasions failed to please, was nerved last night to a full display of power, and nover played the part of the nurse with excellent taste, and all the minor roles were rendered with aprit. To-night "The School for Scandal," with Miss Coombe in Mr. Hooley's Theatre, to an overflowing house. Had hiss Rogers consented to open her engagement with this piece she would have been very successful. The drama is from the same source as "Frenchwoman," but, as before remarked, is perfectly wholesome, without a single tain of evil. Mr. Boundsault is too old a playwright to tamper with the modesty of the public. The part of Aligni is essentially pathetic, and Miss Rogers is well adapted to such a style. We reserve an extended notice of the piece for's future occasion, merely adding that the company played with case and readiness, and assisted in making the first representation of the drama a marked success.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

Mr. John McCullough repeated "The Gladiator" last evening to an overflowing house, and was wildly applauded after every act. There was no stint to the expression of admiration which the andence could not help feeling. To-night he will play Richelies in Bulwer's drama. The following explains itself:

C. R. Gardner, Eag:

Dean Ris: Deeply impressed by the originality and force of Mr. McCullough renditions in the most elevated dramatic characters, and desiring to express our admiration for him in a public and emphasic form, we respectfully ask you, on behalf of the clitzens generally, to designate an evening when a benefit performance can take place and where we h

Hon, Whilam Bross, 2 Hon, Charles H, Reed, Herman Raster, and 200 others.

Sunday we mentioned a rumor that a new theatre was to be built on Dearborn street between Madison and Monroe streets. The rumor has now given place to a definite assurance. Arrangements were consummated yesterday for the construction of a large first-class theatre building in the immediate vicinity of the old Fost-Office building. So fan as the plans are matured, it is decided to creet a building Box150 feet on Dearborn street. The front portion of the building is to be rented for stores and offices, while the theatre proper is to be approached by means of a very handsome chirance. Mr. Leonard Grover has secured the lease of the building, and will probably associate Mr. Rice with him in the management. It will be devoted to the spectacular, burlesque, and the variety business, where the free-and-casy, beer-and-tobacco feature will be allowed no entrance. Mr. Wallace Hume has the plans in hand. The location is one of the most central, if not absolutely so, in the city, and the theatre will undoubtedly become as popular as Niblo's in New York.

At this pleasant little-palace of minstrely the attendance was as large as usual last evening to witness the second production of Bobby Newcomb's latest and best burlesque, "The Border Lily," by the Aringston, Cotton & Kemble Minstrel Combination, in white faces, the first and olio portion of the entertainment was varied and pleasing, embodying a complete entertainment in itself, but the burlesque was the crowning feature. The costuming was particularly fine, appropriate, and in harmony with the east of characters and beautiful scenery and tableaux. In a word, this piece is, by far, the best and most entertaining of the season, and cannot fall to be appreciated by all who have the good fortune to witness its production. The mechanical effect of the volcano and Modocs of the lava-beds are worthy of special note.

Mr. GARFIELD made an additional point that Mr. GARFIELD made an additional point that the rule provides that no motion or proposition for tax or charge upon the people shall be discussed on the same day in which it is made or offered. THE SPEAKER—"The Chair agrees with the gentleman from Massachusetts and the gentleman from Ohio, that the bill is liable to objection; that if it does not itself contain a charge or tax on the people, it is amendable by such a proposition, and that, if it does increase the legal-tender notes, it increases, of course, the obligations of the United States, and is to that extent liable to objection that it is a tax-bill. But the gentlemen will observe that this bill originated in the Senate, and if it be open to the objections urged by them the Senate could not have originated it."

Mr. GARFIELD—Then let us make that point.

Mr. GARFIELD—Then let us make that point.
The SPEAKER—That point is one which the Chair has aever ruled upon, because it is not for the Chair to say what the Senate of the United States may or may not properly do. Where the House has disagreed with the Senate on that point it has always been by vote of the House. If the House agrees that the Senate sent this bill here properly, all points made by the gentlemen from Massachusetts and Onio fall, because the House cannot concede that the Senate originated this bill properly and sent it here properly, and then ask the Chair to rule that it is a tax bill and imposes a public burden.

Preasury.

Mr. MAYNARD then moved the previous question on the passage of the Senate bill, and twas seconded, 121 to 59.

The bill was then passed—yeas, 140; nays, 102.

The text of the bill is as follows:

That maximum amount of United States notes is creby fixed at $400,000,000.

That maximum amount of United States notes is hereby fixed at $40,000,000.

SEC. 2. That $46,000,000 in notes for circulation, in addition to such circulation now allowed by law, shall be insued to the National Banking associations now organized, and which may be organized hereafter, and such increased circulation shall be distributed among the several States as is provided in Sec. 1 of the act entitled "An act to provide for the redemption of 3 per centum temporary loan certificates, and for an increase of the National Bank notes," approved July 12, 1870, and each National Bank ing association now organized or hereafter to be organized shall keep and maintain as part of its reserve required by law one-fourth part of the coin received by it as interest to bonds of the United States deposited as escurity for circulating notes or Government deposits, and that hereafter only one-fourth of the reserve now prescribed by law for National Banking Associations shall consist of balances due to an association available for the redemption of its circulating notes from associations in cities of redemption, and upon which balances no interest shall be paid. The status of the whole question now is, that while the House bill has to await the action of the Senate, which may or may not be favorable, or may be délayed indefinitely, the Senate bill goes directly to the President for his signature.
